Run no 292 Feb 28 Orange Slip, Scratchy and Lady in Waiting

Run no 293 Mar 07 Marlon's post-party hangover run + Comic Relief!

HARE NEEDED

Run no 294 Mar 14 Wrong Way

Hares needed for all dates until the millennium, please volunteer!

This is the Run Report for Run No. 290 (or 997 if you've forgotten what number we are at)

When: Sun 14 February at 14h00

Hare: MaBush

Where: Garches

Hounds: 23 and 1 dog

Since it was Valentine's Day, the hare really wasn't expecting many hashers to get out of bed, but loads did, perhaps due to the bright sunshine peeping through their shutters... Wrong Way provided some Valentines balloons for the ladies to attach - how none of us managed to pop/lose them during the run I have no idea. So, off we all popped along towards the forest, only to turn back again at the level crossing and start checking in town. For a change we did a little pavement pounding up past the shops (mainly shut, bien sûr) and through a couple of suburban streets full of pretty Froggy "pavilions". The pack knew what was coming next and raced into the woods at the lower end, and the naughty fast folk didn't even stop at the HashView (but then it was over the autoroute, phwoarrgh)! In the forest the trail became a bit wonky and kept going here and there. When the hare was asked for directions, she gave nothing away since she couldn't quite remember herself where the trail went. More importantly however, she hadn't forgotten where the SS (Sangria Stop, of course) was stashed.

Sorry, no sex stop. Not far to go up and down a couple more leafy lanes to the downdowns (see below) where Noel, who loves to hash but can't always make it due to laundry/washing hair/work, was baptised "Can't Come".

What did we think of the run? We loved it, thumbs up! Too many ladies checks (moan moan moan!)

Down Downs:

The Hare: MaBush - virgin non-live hare!

Virgins: Lydia from Rome, not really a virgin at all, hashed in Casablanca. Her hash name is Pump-me-up, everyone.

Returns: Chris, Old Banger, Peter, Roundabout, Scratchy, Spicy Meatballs, Steel Stripper, Stig Ventriloquist, Vivien

Baptism: Noel becomes "Can't Come". Here's to him - hope you can come again soon!

Criminals:

For Lateness: Can't Come, punished also by carrying extra beer to the BeerStop

For Hashing in work shoes and trousers: Steel Stripper

For saying rude things about men's checks: MaBush

For disliking downdowns: Pump-me-up

Valentines Specials:

For giving each other one: Grab-Nuts and WhoreMoan

For bringing/wearing Valentines balloons: Dutch Delight, Grab-Nuts, MaBush, Pump-me-up, Sleeping Sex, Ventriloquist, Wrong Way.

For the couples: Stars & Stripes, Spicy Meatballs & Roundabout, Patrice & Deborah

P.S.....

Forthcoming Events:

- Saturday 6 March: "March-Hare-party" at "Le Chasne", Beautheil, from 20h00 onwards. Music and snacks unlimited available, just bring a bottle (or 2, 3...), and a sleeping bag if you want to stay overnight (there is enough space to crash).

How to get there:

- Train to Coulommiers: leaves Gare de l'Est at 18h43 and 20h14, and will take about an hour. Just call before departure, then you might be picked up at the station, if not it is a 3 km walk. (trains back to Paris on Sunday: 8h05, 10h45 and 12h13)

- Car: follow the A4 (Porte de Bercy) towards Marne-la-Vallee. At Sortie 13 take D231, direction Provins. After about 20 km turn left to

For more details, call Robin "Goblin" () or Marlon "Dutch Delight" (01 40 13 03 68).

- Sunday 7 March: Semi marathon de Paris: 21km (13 miles) 10h00 Start: Stade Charlety. Registration: 120FF on day includes medal and diploma. Call 01 41 33 15 68 for entry form or ask Alison "Platypussy" Plater. For more info <http://www.parismarathon.com>

- 5th, 6th & 7th March :SHAPE H3 & BMPH3 present the 2ND BELGIAN NASH HASH,

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM

Price: until 28th February BEF 2400 or 60 euros, after 1st March BEF 2750 or 68 euros.

They accept payment by: credit card (Visa, Mastercard only) cash, bank transfer or Eurocheques.

includes: Friday night pub crawl, Saturday run, beer on all runs, Saturday evening tramps ball (don't forget your costume) skits, music by Take This, food, cheap bar, Sunday hangover run, beer, and of course a T-shirt.

* FRIDAY eve will feature a r*n/pub crawl and our base will be the White Horse, our kind-of-original hash house, well located just next to a train station, metro stop and taxi spot. Nice choice of beer too.

* SATURDAY will feature our early afternoon r*n (13:30) cum piss-up so-you-can-rest-or-drink-or-do-more-interesting-things-before-the-...

evening dinner and paaaaaaarrrrty at the Maelbeek Centre (Brussels finest Hash venue) featuring Take This! (our local favourite band) and skits (yes, Manneke Piss will be back on stage!). We've been banned from the Maelbeek Centre before but its curator have been sacked in between :-). There will be a cheap pay bar (about EUR 0.70 for a regular lager), hopefully partly sponsored by BMPH3.

* SUNDAY will be treated with the usual contempt it deserves (as TAF would say) with a late morning hangover r*n (late enough so our RA can possibly make it - 11:59) then the weekend will be officially over BUT ... we'll certainly end up somewhere for a bite before/after the dreaded recovery SAUNA in the Arctia Hotel (ask those who were there last year). This will be -of course- a GoNAD mission.

Any question/practical detail? Please contact Lilo Lil or Burning Bush

- Sunday 4 April: Marathon de Paris: 42 km (26 miles!!!) Call for entry form or ask Alison "Platypussy" Plater. For more info <http://www.parismarathon.com>

- May - (Ascension) weekend - BerZuBa Triangle Hash House Harriers, Combined Stockholm Hashes (with the help of the Berlin HHH) present:
2nd Euro Trust Us Hash: "BerZuBa meets

Stockholm in Berlin"

This will be a 4-day event and the biggest BerZuBa Hash event of the year. The registration fee covers 1st class accommodation (youth hostel...reserve early) for three nights, all food, beer, other drinks, wicked BerZuBa goody-bag, T-shirt, live music, skits, and so much more. Like wonderful Swedish Harriettes, BerZuBa, Munich, Aarhus, Stockholm, and Milano Hashers behaving badly, great runs in and around Berlin, kooky Berlin nightlife, and best of all, see (or ride in) the BerZuBa "Stockholm or Bust ... well Berlin is OK" Bus to Berlin. Come out and see why BerZuBa is now the weirdest HHH in Europe.

The registration fee and deadlines are as follows:

Arriving Thurs. Arr. Fri. + later

Before 31 March 99 = SFr 199/DM 240.* SFr 175/DM 210.*

Between 1 Apr. 99-10 May 99 = SFr 235/DM 290.* SFr 205/DM 255.*

After 10 May 99 = SFr 255/DM 310.* SFr 225/DM 275.*

Payment can be made by Eurocheque or Swiss francs.

Buses are organised from certain points in central Europe.

Email MaBush for full details including the registration form...

HashHumour:

? How many honest, intelligent, caring men in the world does it take to do the dishes?

Both of them.

? Why did the man cross the road? He heard the chicken was a slut.

? Why don't women blink during foreplay? They don't have time.

? Why does it take 1 million sperm to fertilize one egg? They won't stop to ask directions.

? What do men and sperm have in common?

They both have a one-in-a-million chance of becoming a human being.

? How does a man show that he is planning for the future? He buys two cases of beer.

? What is the difference between men and government bonds? The bonds mature.

? Why are blonde jokes so short? So men can remember them.

? How many men does it take to change a roll of toilet paper?

We don't know; it has never happened.

? Why is it difficult to find men who are sensitive, caring and good looking?

They all already have boyfriends.

? What do you call a woman who knows where her husband is every night?

A widow.

? When do you care for a man's company? When he owns it.

? Why are married women heavier than single women?

Single women come home, see what's in the fridge and go to bed.

Married women come home, see what's in bed and go to the fridge.

? How do you get a man to do sit-ups? Put the remote control between his toes

What is the one thing that all men at singles bars have in common?

They're married.

Run no 294 Mar 14 Wrong Way

Run no 295 Mar 21 Dracula

Hares needed for all dates until the millennium, please volunteer!

This is the Run Report for Run No. 291 (or 998 if you've forgotten what number we are at)

When: Sun 21 February at 14h00

Hare: Grab-Nuts, Patrice and Deborah

Where: La Celle St Cloud

Hounds: 23 and 1 dog

Fantastic turnout despite lots of rain and a spontaneous train strike at Gare St-Lazare. Apparently the beginning of the run was a bit disorganised, but the HT wasn't there because she was stranded. However by the time Patrice, angel that he is, had rescued Deborah and herself from Garches café (how could they have left without a hare and a hashcash!!!), and deposited us at the beerstop, the other happy hashers were well on their way to being very soggy and covered in shiggy and in need of beer, not that anyone made much effort to seek it out. Part 2 of the run took us out of the forest, down a big hill and up another, and through a bit of civilisation before terminating in a car park conveniently near a shelter where we set up our table and had the circle. The hares did us proud with all the salads and breads that they brought. Yum!

What did we think of the run? Too dry, not enough shiggy, too well organised at the beginning, too easy to short-cut.
Thumbs up!

Down-downs:

The Hare: Chivalresque Pudding, Deborah and Grab-Nuts

Virgins: Coralie and Amandine, made to come by Royal Flush

Visitors: Louis, who has hashed in the Bahamas

Returnees: Hugues

Baptism: Patrice becomes "Chivalresque Pudding" because he rescued 2 damsels in distress (Deborah and MaBush stranded at Garches) but "desserted" his co-hare, Grab-Nuts.

Transport hero(ine)s: Captain Bimbo, for ferrying Wrong Way; MaBush and Deborah, for arriving despite no SNCF service

Criminals:

For lack of shiggy on shoes: Louis

For conducting an orchestra from his car: Yves, on behalf of Mark who left

For Sex on the Hash: Sleeping Sex and Scratchy

For Cross-Dressing Yves and Louis checking at ladies' checks

For a diet we're jealous of: Royal Flush, who had nothing but Budweisers on holiday

For lack of mechanical knowledge + slagging off ppl wearing waterproofs in the rain + wishing for whisky before scantily clad Latino girls Wrong Way

Mismanagement promises you something a bit special for SCHHH's 300th run....

Hares needed for all dates until the millennium, please volunteer!

This is the Run Report for Run No. 292 (or 999 if you've forgotten what number we are at)

When: Sun 28 February at 14h00

Hare: Orange Slip, Scratchy and Lady in Waiting

Where: Buc/Foræt de Versailles

Hounds: 12ish and 3 dogs

After a long drive we arrived at Buc, a wee place under an aqueduct far too close to Jouy-en-Josas, where none of the convoy got lost (must have been because we all had our mobiles and each others' numbers). The sun shone. We ran up and down lots of hills, in forests and in villagey roads, and round a lake, and it was all kind of picturesque. We encountered some rather unusual checks. Apart from the male and female checks, at which there was always somebody of doubtful gender, there were: 1. an R in a circle = a recovery check, since it was at the top of a bummer of a hill. 2. a B in a circle = blonde check. Evil way of making sure MaBush had to do all the checking herself. 3. a fish in a circle = a Pisces check. Nice idea if anyone would admit to being born round about this month. First class shiggy, real cloddy stuff that our shoes would take a long time to forget. Gypsy loved it. Did I mention the lovely sunshine? A long long way, but no worries, it was a nice day. Not only did we have a beer stop, we also had a wait until somebody finds Gypsy stop. We did, but. Royal Flush was relieved. Confusing having 3 hares, you didn't know which one to not trust the most, as they weren't even together most of the time.

What did we think of the run? Thumbs up for the new area! Not enough shiggy, too short.

Down-downs:

The Hare: Orange Slip, Lady in Waiting and Scratchy

Virgins: Marcel, who's Dutch, made to come by Marmotte

Visitors: Louis, who has hashed in the Bahamas

Returnees: Marmotte, Socks 'n' Roses

Baptism: Eric becomes "NoName" since Royal Flush never remembers it and he never signs his emails.

Criminals:

For innocence: Scratchy, wondering how to set a run

For pouring beer on dog: Marmotte

For losing same dog: Royal Flush

For Eurotrash: MaBush

For receiving mobile phone calls: Marcel

For making phone calls and finding dog: Wrong Way

For asking when the hash was: Marmotte

For being a hare at the front of the pack: Orange Slip

For checking at the blonde check then calling OnOn: Can't Come

Phone Numbers: It would greatly ease our communication (mainly at weekends) if we could have everyone's phone number. Please email your number to me now so that I can get a list together. Your co-operation is appreciated!

Let me know if you would like your name removed from the HashTrash.

Run no 296 Mar 28 Marmotte

Run no 297 Apr 04 Chris

Mismanagement promises you something a bit special for SCHHH's 300th run....

Hares needed for all dates until the millennium, please volunteer!

This is the Run Report for Run No. 293 (or 9910 if you've forgotten what number we are at)

When: Sun 7 March at 14h00

Hare: Nobody/Everybody

Where: Garches

Hounds: 10ish and 2 dogs

It stopped raining, the weather was quite nice, some of us were feeling a tad hung over, it was quite cold... but what a lovely run. Chris, Orange Slip and Kiss Me took turns at laying the trail, and impressed the rest of us with their ability to get out of sight for long times at a stretch. Goodness only knows what they were getting up to. Great shiggy, perfect for Eva's spotless shoes. Kiss Me was in smashing Comic Relief garb, what a star. Lots of hills, and leaves, and things. Sunbeams. No beer stop. Pimms had had a haircut. (Have I forgotten something? These run reports are usually much longer...!)

What did we think of the run? Brilliant, but then we set it, didn't we!
Too slippy, mind.

Down-downs:

The Hares: Orange Slip, Kiss Me and Chris in particular

Virgins: Eva from Germany, made to come by Deep Throat

Returnees: Kiss Me, Ursula

Criminals:

For such a red nose: Kiss Me

For beer abuse: Eva, Stars

For not explaining procedures to the virgin: Orange Slip

For party/paté MaBush

For MISDEMEANOURS and silly cup Stars

For shortcutting and getting back early: Royal Flush, Orange Slip

For eating b4 circle, having a pillow in his car, washing his feet and sitting: Chris

HashHumour:

A bloke goes into a supermarket and buys: One tin of beans, One bag of crisps One pack of burgers, One tub of icecream, One cake, One yoghurt, One pint of milk.

He takes them over to the checkout, and the girl looks at what he has bought and asks if he is single.

The bloke says sarcastically, "Yes. However did you guess?"

The girl replies: "You're an ugly cunt".

Hares needed for all dates until the millennium, please volunteer!

This is the Run Report for Run No. 294 (or 9911 if you've forgotten what number we are at)

When: Sun 14 March at 14h00

Hare: Wrong Way

Where: Fourqueux

Hounds: 19 and 3 dogs

Everyone was very eager to run, not because the weather was nice, but because this was their first opportunity to get their arms and legs out for the hash - too hot for big jumpers today. So off we went in convoy to Wrong Way territory, and miraculously nobody got lost! Springtime was in the air and little flowers had opened on the forest floor... The falsies were too many to count as we ran up and down hills and scrambled through a lot of scrunchy woodland, great for all these freshly exposed legs... not! Despite bright sunshine, we kept together thanks to the huge number of check backs, ladies checks and simply silly things en route, like false on-on calls and changing flour patterns. Even the poor walky-talkies were running! There was shiggy, but perhaps not enough as Ursula finished the run with trainers still in a pristine state.

What did we think of the run? Thumbs up, since we were so near Garches, trees, too many paths, too familiar.

Down-downs:

HashHumour:

A young couple was invited to a swanky masked Halloween party. The wife came down with a terrible headache and told her husband to go to the party and have a good time. Being the devoted husband, he protested, but she argued and said she was going to take some aspirin and go to bed. She told him there was no need for him to miss the fun. So he took his costume and away he went.

The wife, after sleeping soundly for one hour, awakened without pain, and as it was still early, she decided to go to the party. Because hubby did not know what her costume was, she thought she would have some kicks watching her husband to see how he acted when she was not around. She joined the party and soon spotted her husband cavorting around on the dance floor. He was dancing with every nice chick he could, and copping a feel here and taking a little kiss there.

His wife sidled up to him and being a rather seductive babe herself, he left his partner high and dry and devoted his time to the new "action". She let him go as far as he wished; naturally, since he was her husband.

Finally he whispered a little proposition in her ear and she agreed, so off they went to one of the cars and had a little bang. Just before unmasking at midnight, she slipped out, went home and put the costume away and got into bed, wondering what kind of explanation he would have for his notorious behaviour.

She was sitting up reading when he came in, and she asked him what he had done. He said, "Oh, the same old thing. You know I never have a good time when you're not there." Then she asked, "Did you dance much?" He replied, "I'll tell you, I never even danced one dance. When I got to the party, I met Pete, Bill and some other guys, so we went into the den and played poker all evening. But I'll tell you...the guy that I loaned my costume to sure had one helluva time!"

When: Sun 21 March at 14h00

Hare: Dracula (+ Wrong Way)

Where: Garches

Hounds: 20 and 3 dogs

Oh la la, horrible weather! It was with great trepidation that we came out of the café and donned our waterproofs. And the poor hare had had a bad start to the day - after killing his car the night before he required the urgent help of Wrong Way to get him and his carful of beer and bouffe to the run site. Wrong Way kindly obliged then didn't run, obviously the most sensible person among us! The rest of us plodded into Garches' friendly forest as usual and encountered lots of shiggy and not many paths. Suddenly we were at the beer stop! So soon! It turned out that we'd managed to skip a huge chunk of the run, but fortuitous really as beer is always nice, unlike the weather, and we still had quite a bit to go after. Believe it or not the rain stopped, so we were able to dry out, providing we steered clear of Gypsy, the mud swisher.

What did we think of the run? Thumbs up, not enough shiggy or wind, too dry, too far to beer stop.

Down-downs:

The Hares: Dracula (+ Royal Flush on behalf of Wrong Way)

August 1999 - A group from the Cambridge Bash (Crabs) are planning to visit France to view L'Eclipse Solaire Totale. The CRABS are the 'Cambridge Randomly Active Bash' which is cycle Bashing. Lots of people who belong to it also run with the Cambridge Hash. The theme of this trip, however, is definitely cycling.

There will be 20-25 of us.

We are planning to camp near Jumieges in the Parc Regional de Brotonne, on the banks of the Seine, in Normandy, about 15-20km west of Rouen, where we will have a fantastic view of the darkness, as it is on the 'path of totality' of the eclipse.

A small group of us are going there in the first weekend in May to plan the trails. We will come over on the preceding Sunday 8 August, leave on Saturday 14 August, with probably cycle bash trails each day except the eclipse day itself on Wednesday 11 August, when we will relax and watch the eclipse.

If anyone from Paris area Hashes would like to join us we would be very pleased! You may also have some suggestions to enhance our visit (a joint run perhaps?)

Anyone who is interested, contact Gail Wynne-Jones "Thumper" Cambridge HHH

This is the Run Report for Run No. 296 (or 9913 if you've forgotten what number we are at)

When: Sun 28 March at 14h00
Hare: Choucroute Power and MaBush
Where: Bois de Boulogne
Hounds: 21 and 3 dogs

What a gorgeous day! The scariest part of it was the drive in our convoy of deluxe convertibles (we wish) to Bois de Boulogne from Garches, losing cars all over the place. The Grand Mistress didn't help by agreeing to stay at the back of the convoy, then racing off in front of the rest of us. Next thing we heard, she phoned from some other car park in the vicinity wondering where we were. The rest of us, after spectacularly managing to find spaces in the car park "which wasn't packed this morning", were gagging to set off but had to wait for El Flush. Then off we ran through the lovely forest through sunbeams and shade and across lots of roads. Main change from the usual SC hash was of course the amount of other people we were sharing the forest with, but come on guys, it was a talent-spotting opportunity! (Had there been any talent to spot, as we wound our way past non-drinking runners and people doing exercises (!!!)). Ridiculously long run due to the (other) hare's a) love for long runs, and b) imperfect knowledge of the Bois. But we did have a beer stop at a wee café at a lake even if the challenge of seeking out the beer was somewhat lost... We finished off by going all round the rest of the lake and losing people, who luckily turned up again in time for the down-downs. Unlike our down-down vessels which are still lurking somewhere like Joop's garage. Dracula arrived in time for the good stuff after getting the new hour wrong, and presented Royal Flush with a rubber chicken from Brussels.

What did we think of the run? Too short, too many parking spaces, not enough roads, too sunny, too much beer, not enough shiggy...

HashHumour:

There was a Frenchman, an Englishman and Claudia Schiffer sitting together in a carriage in a train going through Provence. Suddenly the train went through a tunnel and as it was an old style train, there were no lights in the carriages and it went completely dark.

Then there was a kissing noise and the sound of a really loud slap. When the train came out of the tunnel, Claudia Schiffer and the Englishman were sitting as if nothing had happened and the Frenchman had his hand against his face as he had been slapped there.

The Frenchman was thinking: 'The English fella must have kissed Claudia Schiffer and she missed him and slapped me instead.'

Claudia Schiffer was thinking: 'The French fella must have tried to kiss me and actually kissed the Englishman and got slapped for it.'

And the Englishman was thinking: 'This is great. The next time the train goes through a tunnel I'll make another kissing noise and slap that Frenchman again.'

This is the Run Report for Run No. 297

When: Sun 04 April at 14h00

Hare: Chris and Hugues

Where: Bois de Meudon

Hounds: 12-ish and 2 dogs

Round about 2.30 when we were trying to decide who would go and buy some flour and set a live run due to the no-show of the first-time hare, Chris, finally he rolls up along with sidekick Hugues. Never mind the "sorry we're ridiculously late although we're the hares, I did try to ring your mobiles, etc.", Chris brightly leaps out of the car and says "Have I got time to go for a coffee then?". Sod that! Off we drove to Meudon, in perhaps the most successful, undramatic convoy ever. Hurrah. Luckily for the RA, the weather was smashing for hashing. Great forest too, which would have been even better had we not had to go through so many thorny bushes. When we got to our beer stop it we compared grazes over the copious quantity of beer, juice and water. Lots of hills too, which we kept going up because we'd see a random pouff of flour, only to be chased up by Chris telling us the trail actually went somewhere else. Original HUGE ladies' check. A few hills, shiggy dips and scratches later we came to the "ES", which was luckily our Egg Stop (it was Easter Day for all you religious types). Clever Bimbo found the stash of chocolate eggs which we all enjoyed immensely. The BS was over 2 huge more hills; luckily the beer hadn't been hidden in the smelly pond thing - then On In to the OnIn, where we circled even more crunchy branches and thorny things.

What did we think of the run? Too easy to find the flour, not enough scratchy bushes, too many paths

Down-downs:

The Hares: Chris and Hugues

Virgins: Jean-Luc from Paris and Susanne from Germany,
both made to come by Anya

Returnee: Didier

Criminals:

HashHumour:

A young blonde was on vacation in the depths of Louisiana. She wanted a pair of genuine alligator shoes in the worst way, but was very reluctant to pay the high prices the local vendors were asking. After becoming very frustrated with the "NO HAGGLE" attitude of one of the shopkeepers, the blonde shouted, "Maybe I'll just go out and catch my own alligator so I can get a pair of shoes at a reasonable price!"

The shopkeeper said, "By all means, be my guest. Maybe you'll luck out and catch yourself a big one!". Determined, the blonde turned and headed for the swamps, set on catching herself an alligator. Later in the day, the shopkeeper is driving home when he spots the young woman standing waist deep in swamp water, shotgun in hand. Just then, he sees a huge 9 foot alligator swimming quickly toward her. She takes aim, kills the creature and with a great deal of effort hauls it on to the swamp bank. Laying nearby were several more of the dead creatures. The shopkeeper stops and watches in amazement.

Just then the blonde flips the alligator onto its back, and frustrated, shouts out, "Oh no! This one isn't wearing any shoes either!"

When: Sun 11 April at 14h00
Hare: Ursula and Dracula
Where: Parc de St-Cloud
Hounds: 21 and 2 dogs

Lovely but cold and windy weather, and not a long drive at all round to the other side of our favourite forest. This forest contained a big grass verge with pathways running along each side of it. During this run we met the verge a lot, here and there, as we came in and out of the trees, having no idea where the * we were, and wondering where the * the trail was. Despite our confusion, we knew it couldn't be that far to the beer stop. How wrong could we be...? An hour and a half later we finally came upon it, apart from Bimbo, Banger and Slip who had pelted along at such a rate that they almost missed it. Nice hash view looking onto our favourite metropolis. Another HV at some stone thing that a lot of Brownies (Girl Scouts?) had invaded. A hill that went down a long way, but we believed Dracula because he went down it. Once we got to the bottom another path led us back up to the top again. Grr! Fabulous shiggy for Gypsy. Great shortcut from BS to OnIn! Short circle because Captain Bimbo wasn't keen on the flies.

What did we think of the run? A record breaker - for least flour over 10km! And that hill!

HashHumour:

A married couple went to the hospital together to have their baby delivered. Upon their arrival, the doctor described a machine that would transfer a portion of the mother's labour pain to the father.

He asked if they were willing to try it out, and they both agreed enthusiastically. The doctor set the knob to 10% for starters, explaining that even 10% was probably more pain than the father had ever experienced before.

But as labour progressed, the husband felt fine, so he asked the doctor to bump it up a notch. The doctor then adjusted the machine to 20% pain transfer. The husband was still feeling fine, so the doctor upped the percentage to 50%, then finally to 100%, since the wife was obviously benefiting from the transfer.

The wife delivered a healthy baby with virtually no pain. She and her husband were ecstatic. When they got home, the mailman was dead on their porch.

This is the Run Report for Run No. 299
When: April 18, '99 Run #299 (The GUY's HASH)
Where: Saint Germain en Laye
Hares: Old Banger
Hounds: Sleeping Sex, Dracula, Orange Slip, Socks-n-Roses, One Size Fits All, Romeo, Whore Moane, Can't Come, Deep Throat, Fuck-n~Scratch, Stripes, Nicoli

Run Comments: Too many Trees, Not enough sand, Too many lady's check points-not enough ladies.

Arriving at the Saint Germain en Lay sight, the GUYS began the hash with only one lady hashette providing female company. The run was well planned and offered a good variety of terrain. The weather, typically French-Cloudy and cold-just the right for proper hashing. Due to the sparse attendance from the lady hashers, the pace of the run was swift and business-like. After the circle, the guys took on a pint or two and a locate pub in the village and then dined on crapes at a restaurant across the street before parting ways around 11:00 p.m.

Down Downs:

Hare: Old Banger- for setting the trail.

Virgins: Nicoli from Munich, Germany. Made to come by Stripes.

Returnees: Whore Moan, Can't Come, Deep Throat.

Criminals: Nicoli and Stripes-for competitive running,

Sleeping Sex -for being the only female on the hash and spoiling the «guy's day out».

Deep Throat and Old Banger-for continuing to celebrate the Welsh Rugby victory over France.

Deep Throat-for insulting the R.A.

Can't Come -for interrupting the R.A.

Dracula-for exposing One Size to «Welsh Peril»

Orange Slip (the R.A.) -for relocating the hash circle after it had begun.

Socks-n-Roses-for Taking a low profile at the hash circle.

Romeo-for not acting criminally in any way.

Whore Moan-for finding the trail at check points too quickly.

Old Banger-for getting lost on his own hash trail.

When: Sun 25 April at 14h00

Hare: Old Banger

Where: Foret de Saint-Germain

Hounds: 53-ish

Happy birthday Sans Clue! What a smashing turnout - and why not, it was warm and sunny and there were T-shirts on sale. Had so many people come because they knew what Old Banger's runs were like? Certainly, we had no shortage of RBs, the pack being headed by a nude man called Kanga. So despite the huge numbers of people, we didn't see half of them because they were too far ahead or too lost somewhere. It was great also to be so plentiful that other walkers in the forest would stand aside to let all these people in matching T-shirts stampede past. But oh la la, we scared some horses, which, bless their horseshoes, were being ridden by unpleasant American women. Lots of paths, lots of checkpoints, 50% being ladies' checks, which the ladies didn't want to check out as everyone needed a rest. So Kanga found the trail again... The beer stop was perfect for the non-thirsty - it all ran out PDQ, leaving the back of the pack a bit thirsty! Record-breaking late start, and late huge circle too, both due to waiting for the lost souls to find the rest of us again. Which they did, luckily. Boo hiss to the bastards who broke into some of our parked cars and stole way too much.

What did we think of the run? Long, limited shiggy opportunities, too many hashers, horses, far too much beer at beer stop.

Down-downs: apologies for major inaccuracy - as you know, I am useless with names.

The Hare: Old Banger

Virgins: French Jean-Pierre, made to come by Lunch, English Phil the Engine, made to come by MaBush, English Kim and Andy ??, made to come by ??, Uli from Cologne, made to come by Manuela, Mrs Captain Bimbo, made to come by her husband, 2 English blokes, made to come by Putain OTR, Parisian Richard and her brother, made to come by Royal Flush

Visitors: Aussie Kanga, Norman, Bavarian Anya

Returnees: Dutch Delight, Eric, Goblin, Paula, Pete, Platypussy, Roundabout, Spicy Meatballs, Stig, Tarzan, Vanessa, Wrong Way, Zoe

They ran in Sans Clue's 1st 10 runs: Deep Throat, Roundabout, Spicy Meatballs

Criminals:

For new shoes: Andy, Kim, Stephen

For sex on the hash: Andy, Kim (1st Wedding Anniversary)

For misusing men: MaBush

For exposing his pecs: Kanga

For beer abuse & Cinderella act: Scratchy

For lack of beer/champagne provision: Old Banger

For the RAs: Roundabout, Wrong Way

For going out with a bang Royal Flush

To keep our alcohol levels up, we proceeded onwards after the circle to Old Banger's pad, where we had a wonderful bouffe of brochettes and our fave hash dips, etc. And strip football was spontaneously invented.

Run Comments: Not enough checkbacks, too much flour, too much shiggy, too uncomplicated.

Blessed with gorgeous weather, Stripes had us off sharpish (for us) into the forest of Garches, with the almost-traditional-now CB just over the level crossing. So we puffed and panted up to the top entrance of the forest, and then did a lot of to-ing and fro-ing due to the generous checkback provision of the day's run. One pouffe was On, so we had to go up all the falsies. (How come we always find the correct one last? Is it sod's law?). Miles to the beer stop, but it was a nice day... and there were one or 2 hash views where nobody stopped because we were too busy working out where the distant OnOn calls were coming from. And weren't certain people were looking absolutely ravishing, probably due to the warm weather. Or OK dress sense. Beer stop, eventually, was in such a nice little place that we decided to come back to it for the circle. Mars bars and other confectionery at BS! OnIn very near Beer Stop. Wild Bill presented our RA for the day, Orange Slip, with a tasteful headband all the way from his home hash in the good ol' U.S. of A.

there are many reasons why women are better than men. below is a list of twenty that just came to mind. here goes.

1. they smell better
2. when women burp, it's cute
3. when women fart in the presence of men, it's so out of context it's funny.
4. when women drive erratically, it' cuz they got a lot on their mind. like shopping. or world peace or something.
5. 99% cook. only 37% admit to this fact. this is stealth worthy of a bond movie.
6. women look better in jeans. it's a fact
7. women look better out of jeans. it's a fact.
8. if a woman's nose is running, it's cute. if a guys nose runs, it's gross.
9. women usually have better cars than their male socioeconomic peers.
10. women can pick their nose and men don't mind.
11. when a woman has a bad hair day, men call her frumpy. when a man has a bad hair day, women call him a slob.
12. there's nothing that resides between a woman's teeth that man would not eat just to smell her breath.
13. when a woman cries, she's sensitive. when a man cries, he's a pussy.
14. women don't really have to go to war if they don't want to.
15. chicks are smarter. period.
16. most of my friends are women. i'm smart. therefore, women are better than men.
17. women have tits. end of story.
18. when you talk to a woman, chances are she's really talking to you, not the woman behind you.
19. women have more hair than men. generally.
20. women smell good. men smell.

This is the Run Report for Run No. 303

When: Sunday 16 May, 1999

Where: Meudon

Hare: Orange Slip

Attendance: 10 and 1 dog

Despite it being far too cold for May, our merry little convoy made it to glorious Meudon forest, famous for its great big phallus - so big that they haven't invented a condom for it. Yet. Enough of radio towers - it was a lovely run with abundant flour and a hare who kept the FRBs in check and kept losing the walkers despite Putain-o-t-R's bright pink T-shirt. No bloody beer stop but somehow we survived. Brilliant short cut for the lazy folk - because it must have cut off about 10 metres...! A couple of hills from hell. Gorgeous forest otherwise. Memory loss from MaBush hence lack of detail. The hare prepared a smashing phallic bouffe of floppy asparagus, strawberries, bollocks (eggs) and various other bits and bobs which we scoffed with relish.

Run Comments: Not enough phalluses, too much beer at beer stop

Down Downs:

Hares: Orange Slip

Virgins: Olivia from England, made to come by MaBush/Putain-on-the-Ritz

Returnees: oops, we forgot

Criminals:

For refusing to be RA: Lunch

For complaining: Putain-on-the-Ritz

For not paying attention: Rapunzel

For providing warm beer & FRB: Dracula

For flirting: Royal Flush

For managing to get into his "namesake": Orange Slip

For demonstrating the 5 positions: Olivia

HashHumour(?):

Five reasons computers must be female...

1. No one but their creator understands their internal logic.
2. Even your smallest mistakes are immediately committed to memory for future reference.
3. The native language used to communicate with other computers is incomprehensible to everyone else.
4. The message, "Bad command or file name," is about as informative as "If you don't know why I'm mad at you, then I'm certainly not going to tell you."
5. As soon as you make a commitment to one, you find yourself spending half your paycheck on accessories for it.

In the interest of gender equality ...

TOP 5 REASONS WHY COMPUTERS MUST BE MALE

1. They're heavily dependent on external tools and equipment.
 2. They periodically cut you off right when you think you've established a network connection.
 3. They'll usually do what you ask them to do, but they won't do more than they have to and they won't think of it on their own.
 4. They're typically obsolete within five years and need to be traded in for a new model. Some users, however, feel they've already got so much invested in the darn thing that they're compelled to remain with an underpowered system.
 5. They get hot when you turn them on, and that's the only time you have their attention.

When: Sunday 23 May, 1999
Where: Ville d'Avray
Hare: Old Banger & Socks 'n' Roses (live run)
Attendance: 11 and 1 dog

Despite the obvious attraction of driving thousands of miles to NashHash in the Dordogne, a few hashers couldn't bear to be separated from their beloved Garches rendezvous. Never say die (say Kill!). In our typical style, we left much earlier than the 11 minutes' behind that we promised to the hares. The FRBs were most confident that this time we'd catch the hares, and what a laugh that'd be, blah blah blah. But these hopes were dashed at an early checkpoint when MaBush failed to pick up the trail and everyone else failed to find it elsewhere, of course. Duh! As we progressed through the lovely forest graced with not too much shiggy or hilly ground, this kept happening - we'd be checking for ages, well Orange Slip and Choucroute Power did while the rest of us basked in the sunshine. The going was thus slow with the combination of blind harriettes and first pouffes bloody far from the checkpoints. The fast folk finally lost the walkers who were dead clever and got back first; meanwhile the runners despite many near misses finally lost the trail. Like sheep we had no choice but to follow Orange Slip claimed to know exactly where to go. Sure enough, soon we hit another checkpoint. "It's this way," says he, and soon the next checkpoint is in sight. And so on. Back at the cars, nobody believed that Old Banger and Socks 'n' Roses had been waiting for an hour for us, but then with 3 wives and an unborn child between them, you'd expect them to say the oddest things!

Run Comments: Flour too obvious, great beerstop, too many nettles, too short

Down Downs:

Hares: Old Banger, a Muslim with 3 wives
Socks 'n' Roses, and his pregnancy

Virgins: Peter from St Pauli, Hamburg's red-light district, Choucroute
Power made him come

Returnees: Ludovic (not Dracula, the other one)

HashHumour:

Cooking rules for men!!!!!!!!!!

1.. A properly balanced meal consists of meat, beer and one or fewer vegetable ingredients. The permitted vegetables are: instant mashed potato, frozen peas or chips (bought from drivethru - under no circumstances attempt to cook your own).

2.. Taking any active part in food preparation is called "cooking".

This may include choosing the pizza toppings, phoning the order to the curry house and putting the frozen lasagne into the microwave.

3.. Salad is for rabbits.

4.. The complete list of allowable BBQ foods is: Beer, Hamburgers, Sausages, Steak, Tomato Sauce, Bread. But not too much bread.

5.. Food does not age when put in the fridge. In future, people seeking the secret of eternal life will spend years in their fridges, wrapped in cling-film

6.. It stands to reason that if a food is full of preservatives, then the consumer who eats it will also age slower, and remain healthier for longer.

7.. The Bachelor should always be ready to entertain unexpected guests. Keep plenty of beer in the fridge.

8.. The correct place for dirty pots, pans and plates is in artistic and precarious piles in the sink, on tables, benches and chairs, on top of the T.V, on the floor or in the garden. In each pile the smallest item should always be used for the base. Alternatively, dishes can be stacked in the bath and cleaned by soaking in bathwater and hosing them off.

9.. The correct time to wash dirty plates is right before you next want to use them.

10.. Evil things from months ago lurk in the back of food cupboards and fridges. Never explore the dark reaches beyond the warm, comforting light that plays on the (relatively) recently bought items in the front. Whatever is going on in the back should be left alone.

11.. No potato is ripe until it has developed leaves and a root system of its own.

12.. Rice never goes off.

13.. Beer should never get the chance.

14.. Everything tastes better fried.

15.. Food dropped on the floor is best cleaned by holding it carefully and blowing on it. This works regardless of what was on the boots you wore in the kitchen yesterday, where your dog went last night and whether or not you ever turned on a vacuum cleaner. Cleaning is unnecessary if the food has been on the floor for less than three seconds as germs need this amount of time to migrate from the floor to the food. This is known as the three second rule.

16.. Dessert is for wimps.

17.. The ultimate aim of cooking is to use only one pot in the process.

For maximum points, that pot should be a frying pan.

18.. The correct procedure to follow whenever anything goes wrong is to order pizza. The list of possible things going wrong includes failure to buy food, tiredness, rain, visitors, or a lack of visitors. It is amazing how much can go wrong.

19.. Cleaning the cooking scraps out of the pot you last used last week ruins the flavour of the meal you try to cook in the same pot tonight. Better to just use it anyway.

20.. Cooking the food is easy. Eating it afterwards is the hard part.

To all the big drinkers....

A Texan walks into a pub in Ireland and clears his voice to the crowd of drinkers. He says, "I hear you Irish are a bunch of hard drinkers. I'll give $500 American dollars to anybody in here who can drink 10 pints of Guinness back-to-back." The room is quiet and no one takes up the Texan's offer.

One man even leaves. Thirty minutes later the same gentleman who left shows back up and taps the Texan on the shoulder. "Is your bet still good?", asks the Irishman.

The Texan says yes and asks the bartender to line up 10 pints of Guinness. Immediately the Irishman tears into all 10 of the pint glasses drinking them all back-to-back.

The other pub patrons cheer as the Texan sits in amazement.

The Texan gives the Irishman the $500 and says, "If ya don't mind me askin', where did you go for that 30 minutes you were gone?".

The Irishman replies, "Oh...I had to go to the pub down the street to see if I could do it first."

This is the Run Report for Run No. 306

When: Sunday 06 June, 1999
Where: Parc de St-Cloud
Hare: Famous French Fighter Pilot
Attendance: 14 and a dog

At 2 o'clock we were two. There was Famous French Fighter Pilot and Socks 'n' Roses. Will there be a hash today? This was the question we were asking each other. Some minutes later, out of the blue and cloudy sky, a lot of hashers came. No one heard them coming but they were here. The hare was relieved and happy. Fun could start even if the weather could be better. Famous French Fighter Pilot was beginning his hare speech using an Oxford English. It was such a perfect English that, at some point, some English to English translators were needed. (anyway, the language does not count but the content does). Due to the lack of enough interpreters, the speech went on and the laughter went up. Despite all this, everything was understandable by everyone. FFFP was generally laughed at for novel flour markings, his super english accent and inability to draw a circle or a cross.

Flour: CFRB -> Check FRBs
CW-> Check Wimps
CL-> Check Laggards

At some stage of the run, hashers were wondering if there was a flour saving programme implemented this day. It was a twofold historical day (on one hand, there was a world record for micro tiny pouffes of flour and on the other hand we were June 6, 1999 that is to say fifty years after the liberation of France by the English and the Americans). History will tell why a cloudy day finished in laughter and good understanding between all the happy going hashers. That's all folks for today.

Choucroute Power, Captain Bimbo and Slack Mac laughing for bad English. Long way without any flour in a path some of the hashers knew before hand it could be an "on in" . Strange road signs as they were not clear enough or washed away by the rain or by any other supernatural power. Slack Mac in total mood, Peter wimp. Sang and flour track. Choucroute Power and Orange Slip: Sex! No lager checking.

Run Comments: world record for tiny pouffes of flour!

Down Downs:

Hares: Famous French Fighter Pilot

Virgins: Aline, from Paris, made to come by Gloria something

Returnees: Nympho, Slack Mac, Ghislaine, Choucroute Power

Visitors: Aloise Fanvaroue

Criminals:

Stretching: Aline and Aquasex

Training: Aline

Train misser: Aline who had to take this train and not the next one, who did not want to wait for a lift

For owning dog which may have (but probably didn't) produce the shit which the RA ran through: Royal Flush

Red sea feast: Goblin & Dutch Delight

For not having enough girls: Famous French Fighter Pilot

Running with raincoats/disbelievers = no faith in RA's divine powers:
Nympho, Sleeping Sex, Choucroute Power,

Royal Flush

For opening more coolers as after down-downs finished:

Slack Mac

For running in forest calling "How are You" and for being too much polite in a hash framework: AquaSex

For nightclubbing antics - lost control, having 8 people in a car on the Champs Elysees, too polite to 2 many men: Choucroute Power

This is the conclusion we draw after having heard captain Bimbo explaining to the hashers the origin of "Famous French Fighter Pilot" : we should set fire to the hare by...

Vote as to whether FFFP should be named FFFP or Microdot (for least ever flour). Including the "going down in flames" joke told by RA. Decision by 8ish+dog to 4ish: FFFP. Naming ceremony.

This is the Run Report for Run No. 305

When: Sunday 30 May, 1999
Where: St Conflans
Hare: Tarzan and Deep Throat
Attendance: loads and a dog

Very sneaky start ,where the pack almost ended up in a trench, followed by an even sneakier figure of eight which set the tone of the day. Through jungle ,as promised , the hashers plodded on on apart from Kama Sutra who appeared to have injected himself with a laxative and was furiously burning up the paths in search of a toilet and Ghislaine who was gently meandering through the woods pointing hashers in all sorts of directions. The first half shot by without even a break at the checks, making the beer stop in a clearing that more enjoyable. The bonus here being that Jane had quite sensibly emptied the bananas out of the jungle fridge and replaced them with beer. Refreshed, the hashers now start on a new hashing game of "hunt the monkey" with Kama Sutra winning the prize. With bellies full of beer it was time to run the final section which proved too hard for some so Chris decided to take a "likes a long one" for an underwater refreshment!!!! a point that did not go un-noticed. At the end, much excitement as hashers bravely stood up to the law and lit there illegal barbecue (concealed within a big open clearing!!!), doused "spicy meat balls" in flour (they taste better that way) and generally made lots of noise.

Run Comments: where's the bananas, Jane's not what she used to be, who has the barbecue fine??

Down Downs:

Hares: Tarzan and Jane (Deep Throat in drag!!!)

Loin Cloth fashion show measured by the whistleometer:

Tarzan 10/10

Chris 10/10

Deep Throat Jane 1/10

Virgins: Katherine from "trop compliqe" presque Mongolia, made to come by someone in Belgium, Chris will do. Threatened the RA with her lawyer!!

(K provided an excellent demonstration for even the most seasoned of hashers as she poured the significant remains of her beer over her head)

Returnees: Roundabout, Jeff, Ghislaine, Spicy Meat Balls, Andrew (Paula's bear), Chris , Royal Flush, Isabelle, Deep Throat, Capt Bimbo, etc etc.

Criminals: Miss Ghislaine Semaphore (Gwen in Scottish pronunciation) for using her arms to indicate all sorts of nonsense.

Athletes Corner:

Kama sutra for FRB'ing

Andrew and Paula as trainer and runner respectively

Chris for openly expressing a desire to "go running"

Sex on the Hash:

Kama Sutra for "trapping" Zoe with a twig

Zoe "twiggy" for letting herself be trapped by a twig

Nymphomania for her new name and discussing sexual things with Sleeping Sex. Sleeping Sex for same.

Chris "Aquasex" and likes a long one for underwater sex!!

Paula for obscene thoughts about that well known plant "sticky willy"

Katherine for thinking a catapult was a prophylactique!!

Non Sinners for not sinning

Piss Pot for being named somewhere else and accordingly first letter from each of his names was exchanged so he will now be known as Piss Pot

A koala bear and a hooker go back to her place and they get undressed. The koala bear goes down on the hooker... for 3 hours straight. She has multiple orgasms. After 3 hours he stops, gets up and puts on his clothes.

The woman is hanging back huffing and puffing from exhaustion. "Oh God, that was great! Now I need my money." The koala bear just looks at her and shrugs.

Then the hooker says, "No, I need my money. I'm a hooker and this is how I make a living." The koala bear just looks at her and continues to put on his clothes. Then the hooker gets up and grabs a dictionary and thumbs it to "hooker." She hands it to the koala bear and it reads: "HOOKER: person who has sex for money" then the koala bear turns the page to "koala bear" and walks out the door. The hooker reads: "KOALA BEAR: eats bushes and leaves."

A bit of an early departure - the pavements were being pounded at about 14h15! Classic check-back just over the railway line, then OnOn through town where had it not been so confusing the FRBs would have been miles ahead of the money-dropping Royal Flush and her loyal woofers. Nice crunchy stony street up a hill. A couple of checks later and we were into the forest and went round the lake. Turned out that the "S" was a song stop, since if it was a sex stop it would have been an "O" for orgy. So that's what all these circles mean!!! One round of Father Abraham later and we ended up at another "S" which was whatever it wanted to be really. Over the bridge, and what a hash view if you stand in the right place. Then the trail became ridiculously confusing as memory-loss the hare really wasn't sure if we were going the right way, and if anyone would find any flour if they went that way. And who would have thought of a circular check? (That's when the trail leads you back to the same place). OnOn past a fountain thing, and soon back into the forest again, up a hill to the SS. Yup, no beer stop, it was MaBush's so-called Sangria. Onwards through lots of meadows which were rather pretty, down a couple of treacherous hills, a bit more getting lost, some shiggy, a stupid misleading arrow that the hare did not put there (I really didn't!). Still full of sunshine, we made it to the OnIn. Where it began to rain. Circle full of hideously bright macs (and a slack one, ha ha ha) and general soggyness. But it didn't last...

Run Comments: All very positive.

Tuesday 10 August - Eclipse Bash.

Hello again to all you Frogs over there who want to join us. We have now finalised the plans for our event (a small advance party came over last month and did some reconnoitring, checked out the local auberges, etc.).

The official Crabs Eclipse Bash is starting at the Camping de la Foret at Jumieges at 11 am, and includes a picnic stop.

Jumieges is a smallish village in one of the loops of the Seine, about 15km west of Rouen, by the Brotonne National Park, and the camp site is clearly marked.

All-terrain bikes useful but not essential, although thin racing-type tyres might be difficult.

Why don't some of you take the train or drive over with your bikes for the bash, stay the night with us at the campsite, where we can party until the other campers tell us to shut up, and then watch the eclipse in a relaxed way the following morning?

French hashers/bashers can join the bash for the special reduced rate of 50FF, which will include the picnic.

A man and a woman who have never met before find themselves in the same sleeping carriage of a train. After the initial embarrassment they both go to sleep, the woman on the top bunk, the man on the lower.

In the middle of the night the woman leans over, wakes the man and says, "I'm sorry to bother you, but I'm awfully cold and I was wondering if you could possibly get me another blanket."

The man leans out and, with a glint in his eye, says, "I've got a better idea just for tonight, let's pretend we're married"

The woman thinks for a moment. "Why not", she giggles. "Great!", he replies, "Get your own f blanket!"

25th HASH TRASH of 1999 part 2

This is the Run Report for Run No. 308

When: Sunday 13 June, 1999
Where: Parc St Cloud
Hare: Nympho and Dra-Cul-a
Attendance: 17 and 3 dogs

An amazing display of artistic talent by Nympho as she liberally spread blobs of flour around which bore no resemblance to the flour on the run. Why? Because there was no flour on the run as she had used it all in the oven that morning to bake savoury bread and cakes of such volume that she had to hire a lorry to have them delivered to Garches!!!They were very good though!! Anyway , back to the run. Off we went to the usual check at the top of the wooden steps just over the railway. RA of course bravely descended to find the inevitable false but called as many sheep down as he could find. Through the forest we continued literally with Nympho and Dracula obviously on a bonus from the park authorities if they managed to keep everyone of the paths. Nettles, barbed bushes, you name it they had designed a course that was going to draw blood and it did! It also went places that no-one had been before discovering in the process an ancient tribe that had never before made contact with the outside world. Surprise came across the visiting "dancing queen" who actually found a blob of flour and started to feel it for signs as to where we go next. These yanks , I don't know. Anyway , on on until eventually the beer stop was discovered with the beer found more easily than the trail concealed by 4 twigs!! The non vibrant pack seemed to relish in the beer stop which lasted for an age after which they all lethargically stotted back to the end where at least Wrongway (who had been missed by all for weeks) was present with his garlic dip.Hurrah.

Run Comments: where's the flour, oh it's in the cakes, whats wrong with the paths etc.

The Penguin

This penguin is taking a trip when his car suddenly breaks down.

Luckily for him, he finds himself just down the street from a mechanic. So he pushes his car to the shop and asks the mechanic to take a look.

The mechanic tells him it will take a while to find the problem and tells him to come back in an hour.

The penguin goes to the supermarket across the street, buys some frozen fish sticks and some vanilla ice cream and spends the rest of the hour hanging out in the frozen foods section, chowing down. After the hour is up, he waddles over to the mechanic's shop. Seeing the penguin come in, the mechanic walks over and, wiping his hands on a rag says, "Looks like you've blown a seal."

The penguin blushes, wipes his beak with a flipper and says, "No, it's just vanilla ice cream." boom boom!!!!

When: Sunday 27 June, 1999

Where: Marly le Roi

Hare: Dracula & Pisspot

Attendance: 11 and a dog

Dracula promoted himself to hare and asked Old Banger and Wrong Way where to set the live run. WW suggested Parc Marly le Roi. Just as we were about to leave, Slack Mac honoured us with his presence. Instead of ten 'little' hashers, we were eleven. WW made sure no one got lost and we parked near the Aqueduct. WW showed the hares (Dracula and PP) the correct way into the park and after ten minutes we started chasing them.

How wrong can you be? Too soon we lost the trail and most of the pack was on his/her own. Eventually Old Banger shouted On-On, as he had spotted one of the hares in the woods. Well, WW dutifully followed and we stayed together for a while. We found some arrows, but finally Old Banger gave up and told me he would go back. This gave me a chance to 'phone home', wander into the woods, and hé, presto, I stumbled upon the trail!

When I came to the main gate on the east side, I saw the hares, probably accompanied by Slack Mac and Old Banger. At the on-in were thus Dracula, PP, Old Banger, Slack Mac and Wrong Way (No, he did not get lost!).

We unpacked the beer/bouffe and waited for the 6 that were still on trail.

Stars 'n Stripes (with Sara), and,
..... and Sleeping Sex eventually made it back.

In the absence of Capt.Bimbo, Wrong Way called the circle.

What did we think of the run:

Too much flour, sunshine, no shiggy and other assorted BS.

He bestowed DD's on:

The hares: Dracula and PP.

Returnees: Slack Mac, Old Banger and

Criminals:

The hares again, for being caught

Happy Independence Day to all the Americans... not that many showed up for the run. And despite the diversity of hashers' T-shirts (apart from the twins! - MaBush and Dracula) they were all Euro-material. Still, our run celebrated the great American "culture" with excuses to act like that superhero, Rambo. At the depart, the Rambos were sent off one way, the walkers another. After a huge hilly loop we went back past the departure point and caught up with the walkers, who hadn't exactly covered much ground in our absence. And what a run for FRB's! We hardly stopped, but then it was hard to stop having fun too, so that's OK. Our American visitors received an explanation of which plants would sting their legs, most handy especially in the optional Rambo zone. This was a loop of leaping over logs and avoiding crocodiles and nettles and going up and down lots of hills and lucky there was plenty flour or there would have been more casualties. A path was enough for Likes a Long One, and what a mess as splat she went! Back at the beer stop the non-Rambos were smugly waiting with their beers, perfectly poised to watch the madder ones among us dip body parts into the fountain thing. The Parc was glorious, including a lake lovingly renamed Pisspot's Piss Pot which attempts were made to throw people into. To finish off, a bloody great hill and a bloody great barbecue too, with all the dips we have come to love and marshmallows to toast too.

What did we think of the run:

Too many nettles, not enough shiggy or Americans

Goa - THE bid for IH 2002

Why Goa in 2002?

Do you really have to ask? Goa is fantastic. Mythic. Historic.

Hedonistic. Fun. Goa is sensual, warm, and famous for partying. In short, it is perfect for Hashers.

Goa is tropical. Goa has beautiful, long beaches fringed with palm trees.

Goa has great food. Fresh seafood. Tropical fruits. Exotic cuisine. And great cooks.

Sample "fenny" the local hooch made from the fruit of cashews. Try spicy prawn curries, or fiery vindaloo. Goa has fabulous beer, a pre-requisite for good hashing.

Goa has history.

Long before trendy Westerners discovered its charms in the 60's, Goa was a trade centre for the Portuguese, and before them the Greeks, Romans and Arabs. The world has been appreciating Goa for centuries.

Goa is infamous for partying.

Traditional hospitality, a salubrious climate, and warm people have welcomed visitors for centuries. The off-beat is accepted, and indulgence is welcomed. Hashers belong here.

Goa has the weather.

Warm enough to make you appreciate your beer, yet cool enough to stroll those gorgeous beaches. Lush and tropical. Did we mention the long, beautiful beaches and that great food?

Goa has facilities.

The thousands of Hashers that will congregate for INTERHASH 2002 will be easily absorbed into the pre-season facilities of Goa. Hotels, restaurants, and other facilities are available for every budget. Goa is economical. Even YOU can afford it. And you won't be camping out, either. Goa is fantastic.

It has been a preferred destination for India Hashers for a long time, and now, come 2002, the global Hasher community will be introduced to the warm charms of this tropical haven. And with the Hasher party experts from all the India Hashes! It will be a blast! Get your Hash to Goa in 2002.

Try Goa.

HashHumour:

A herd of buffalo can move only as fast as the slowest buffalo. When the herd is hunted, it is the slowest and weakest ones at the back that are killed first. This natural selection is good for the herd as a whole, be cause the general speed and health of the whole group keeps improving by the regular killing of the weakest members.

In much the same way, the human brain can only operate as fast as the slowest brain cells. Excessive intake of alcohol, we all know, kills brain cells, but naturally it attacks the slowest and weakest brain cells first. In this way, regular consumption of beer eliminates the weaker brain cells, making the brain a faster and more efficient machine. That's why you always feel smarter after a few beers.

When: Sunday 11 July, 1999

Where: Foret de Fausses Reposes

Hare: Aquasex and Likes a Long One

Attendance: 14

Glorious hot sunny day, many knees visible among the pack, etc. Aquasex had us all pose for a photo - shame he had no film in his camera. Nice run, with record-breakingly small pouffes of flour. No matter however, as both hares were always there to check that we could find it, and lead us in the right direction when we were in difficulty. The paths through this sandy forest were great, but our hares rather liked overgrown paths and undergrowth in general. There was even flour visible on some of the plants! Likes a Long One enjoyed running round and round the same tree. Then we got to an HS - HashSport / Hash Sit-ups, encouraging us to do the training circuit, though Richard was alone doing sit-ups. Funny that. Unlike the hurdles, where the pack were out to prove they were hard enough. Great checkpoints, where there were always plenty eager people off onto the wrong trails, including the blokes at ladies' checks... At the beer stop we were first of all impressed by the provision of orange juice then shocked at offers of non-alcoholic beer. And the beer was found in no other than a bin liner in a filthy pond. Old Banger threatened to push MaBush in after some comment she made about over-25 year-old men, in jest, of course. Since this wasn't good enough for some, bastards Deep Throat and Dracula made sure she got her comeuppance by throwing her into the foul gungy water, beautiful new shoes and all. Complete and utter bastards. So she then had to squelch and stink all the way back to the OnIn (up a hill again...) and realised how it felt to be a bloke - always smelly and soaking by the time they complete the run. Following the circle Likes a Long One provided us with home-made apfelstrudel or something ser German like that, washed down with coffee a la Orange Slip.

What did we think of the run:

Interesting choice of routes. As in "this is flour". Oh, ok.

Down-Downs

Hares: Aquasex and Likes a Long One.

They also received down-downs for sneaky figure of 8 perceived only by Sleeping Sex; running round trees (LALO), photography (Aquasex) and bringing non-alcoholic beer to the BeerStop.

Virgins: Mario from Macedonia, made to come by Choucroute Power
Fatima from Algeria, made to come by Kama Sutra

Criminals:

- Ladies: Orange Slip - with Aquasex's permission
Richard, who also wanted to lick up the flour
- Lost Control: Captain Bimbo the RA
- Traffic offences: Kama Sutra for driving like a Frenchman, and Old Banger
the Proxy
- Hurdle racing: Dracula, Kama Sutra, Deep Throat, Richard
- Whingeing: Sleeping Sex
- The Weather: Captain Bimbo the RA
- Wet T-shirt: MaBush
- New Shoes: MaBush's, drunken from by Deep Throat and Dracula
- Throwing MaBush in foul pond: Dracula, Deep Throat
- Complaining about filthiness of said pond: Sleeping Sex
- To down-down with Sleeping Sex: "Super" Mario
- Drinking non-alcoholic beer and enjoying it: Choucroute Power

HashHumour:

A man was walking along a California beach and stumbled across an old lamp. He picked it up and rubbed it and out popped a genie.

The genie said, "OK, OK. You released me from the lamp, blah blah blah blah blah! This is the fourth time this month and I'm getting a little sick of these wishes so you can forget about three of them. You only get one wish!"

The man sat and thought about it for a while and said, "I've always wanted to go to Hawaii but I'm scared to fly and I get very seasick. Could you build me a bridge to Hawaii so I can drive over there to visit?"

The genie laughed and said, "That's impossible. Think of the logistics of that! How would the supports ever reach the bottom of the Pacific? Think of how much concrete ... how much steel! No, think of another wish."

The man said OK and tried to think of a really good wish. Finally, he said, "I've been married and divorced four times. My wives always said that I don't care and that I'm insensitive. So, I wish that I could understand women... know how they feel inside and what they're thinking when they give me the silent treatment... know why they're crying, know what they really want when they say 'nothing'... know how to make them truly happy."

The genie said, "You want that bridge with two lanes or four?"

When: Sunday 18 July, 1999
Where: Meudon
Hare: Choucroute Power and Dracula
Attendance: 21 (+ 2 dogs)

It was a bloody hot day, and there were a lot of hung over people around. Hence lots of sunglasses. Good old Long Hop parties, then Manneke Pis (which incidentally is set to become our new Thursday night RV venue until somebody comes up with a cheaper bar, 4(?) rue Danou, 75002 Paris, Metro Opera, see you there)... Yes, so, off we went for a sweaty old jog round Meudon forest, which wasn't quite as short as hare Choucroute Power suggested, but still, not too bad at all. However, it more than made up in terms of big steep hills to go up, and then down, and then up... Far too many ladies' checks too, and people calling OnOn when they shouldn't have. Many trails went through lots of crunchy sticks. And more crunchy sticks. Miles of crunchy bloody sticks. Other hare Dracula had (most of) us going along his shiggy trail, which was a marsh to you and me. Many casualties among the shoes, some very serious. So the sight of OnIn was most welcome, although Pimms and Sans Clue's green alien didn't get on like a house on fire!

What did we think of the run:

Too many hills, too many crunchy bits, too much shiggy, too hot, all the usual complaints (how lazy can a hash get???)

Hot hot hot. What happened to everybody? Did Saturday night kill them? What was in the beer/wine/crudites? Anyway, Old Banger and Scratchy set a smashing live run in MLR, but the bloody pack gave them far too much of a chance, leaving after the generous 10 minutes suggested by Old Banger. For the first time in recent history, it was a live OB run where the pack managed to keep together and not get lost. Well almost. Aquasex and Massimo managed to get separated, and were not seen for a long long time. And we waited at the OnIn quite a bit for the walkers, but then if the FRBs don't mark the checkpoints... Dead nice forest, much lovelier than this time six months ago when the pack froze to death. What a contrast! So we ran and ran and ran and there were a lot of hills and pleasant paths, also a fabulous lack of fighting one's way through the undergrowth. Enjoyed the fact that there are trees in the forest, to avoid the hot sun... Due to the lack of qualified shouters, MaBush and Stripes shared the RA duties.

What did we think of the run:

Lost people, too much sun, too many hills, too long/short, flour?

HashHumour:

One spring day, a fish was swimming about 12 inches below the surface of a lake and saw a fly hovering just out of striking distance.

The fish said to itself, "If that fly comes six inches closer, I'll jump up and have myself a meal."

Just then a bear on the shore of the lake looked up and said to itself, "If that fly gets any closer to the fish, the fish will jump up, and I'll catch the fish and have myself a meal."

As luck would have it, a hunter saw what was happening. He thought to himself, "If the fly moves closer to the fish, the fish will jump, the bear will lean over to grab the fish and I'll shoot the bear."

Just then a rat was standing the hunter, saying to himself, "If that fly moves closer to the fish, the fish will jump up, the bear will lean over to grab the fish, the hunter will lean over to shoot the bear, and I'll grab the sandwich from the back pocket of the hunter."

However, unknown to the rat, a cat was observing everything and thinking, "If that fly moves closer to the fish, the fish will jump, the bear will grab the fish, the hunter will shoot the bear, the rat will grab the sandwich, and I'll snatch the rat."

At that very moment, the fly dropped a few inches, the fish grabbed the fly, the bear grabbed the fish, the hunter shot the bear, the rat grabbed the sandwich, the cat jumped, missed the rat and landed in the lake.

The moral of this story is: A lot has to happen before the pussy gets wet.

Where: Foret des Fausses Reposes
Hare: Old Banger and Platypussy (live run)
Attendance: 17

Lovely day, not too hot. I think there was a cloud or 2. At the run site Platypussy and Old Banger set off and easily got their 10 minutes since somebody got out a football so that the sporty ones (ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha) could play volleyball, and Likes a Long One was almost successful in killing Chris with a wonky hit. The ran began along a very long bit, to spread out the pack, i.e. to keep Kama Sutra and Sleeping Sex as far away from each other as is possible. Later lots of checkpoints, lots of familiar bits from runs of the past, and lots of ladies' checks to stop Kama from catching the hares. Luckily there were lots of ladies, well female hashers at least. Tragic lack of beer stop. Bleedin' live runs.

What did we think of the run:

We loved it. Nobody got lost. The hares got away with it. And all the usual complaints, it gets a bit boring to type them all out week after week, doesn't it girls and boys.

Nice confusing run. Even/especially if you are setting it. This run featured lots of shiggy, 2 BFFH (Bastard Falsies from Hell) and 2 Beer stops. Hurrah. Nobody has any idea where we actually went, what with laying the trail backwards in the wrong order, and some of the pack finding our cars when Wrong Way thought we were as far away from them as possible. I think "Come Back" was called nearly as often as "OnOn". This double beer stop thing was ace though, we just did a big loop round some unknown bit of something or other. Though the beer was some dodgy pan-European watery stuff, which didn't even pass as down-down material after! We threw berries. We threw flour. We threw peanuts. Which was great fun. 5 of us DID the last part of the run, including both hares, both "RAs" and a very enthusiastic virgin.

What did we think of the run:
Flour (too much/not enough), shiggy, far too confusing!

This is the Run Report for Run No. 316

When: Sunday 15th August, 1999
Where: Bois de Boulogne
Hare: Tarzan and Injection Specialist
Attendance: 24

The hounds kept coming and coming until there were more than enough of us to get lost somewhere between Garches and the set-off point at the Bois de Boulogne. No sign of the hares though, until Old Banger II - that's Injection Specialist's car, turned up, with just him in it, to show us the way. When we got to the OnOn, still no Tarzan, oh no, what's this, it's Tarzan, Mathilde and 2 bikes. Well whoopee for that. So we started running and nobody said onon and we cut through thorns and nettles and nobody stopped bloody running and there was that waterfall and still nobody said onon and a few deaths later (well it felt like that) it was the beer stop and finally, then, did we stop bloody running. Lots of new faces to get to know however, nice distraction while, um, running. Beer stop by lake provided ideal opportunity for Pig to become golden-furred again, and Old Banger attempted to tire Pig out by throwing lots of sticks into the lake. Of course dogs are infatiguable. Onwards and we got running again - apart from Tarzan who was cycling (!) and nobody said onon and the pack became very spaced out and still never stopped running and onon was not said. Lovely circle RA'd by Wrong Way, followed by bouffe a la Nathalie, desserts a la Stars and luckily there was plenty ice left over for Tarzan and Kama Sutra to freeze their arses off and throw ice and have it thrown back at them...

What did we think of the run:

Too scenic, too many waterfalls, nice run, usual complaints.

HashHumour:

Superman was flying around thinking "I need a shag" he was horny as a horndog. The Man of Steel was gagging for it. He passed over Gotham City when he saw Batman, so he flew down for some advice.

"Hey Bats, who's a good shag?" Batman replied, "Well Supe, everyone knows that Wonderwoman is the best sex in comicland, why don't you try her?"

"I'd love to, but Wonderwoman and I are friends, so I don't really want to take advantage of her..."

"Damn shame," said Batman, and waved goodbye to Superman as he flew off.

Ten minutes later he was flying low over a city when he saw Spiderman swinging from rooftop to rooftop. He flew down. "Hey Spidey, I'm cruisin' for a piece of ass, who's the best shag in comicland?"

"Hey, Big S, everyone knows that Wonderwoman is far and away the best shag in comicland, why don't you try her?"

"Well we are sort of friends," he said, "but I didn't realise she had gotten around so much" and he flew off in frustration.

Twenty minutes later he was flying over a field when he saw Wonderwoman lying naked, in the middle of the field, with her legs apart and up in the air. Superman was tempted.

"Goddamn it!" he thought to himself, "I'm faster than a speeding bullet, I can be in and out of there before she even knows I'm here." So with a blur and a sonic boom he was down, in and gone.

Wonderwoman stared up into the sky with a glazed expression. What the fuck was that??" she exclaimed.

"I don't know," said the Invisible Man as he rolled off, "But my arse is killing me."

I need your help: could everyone who was at the run (317) let me know how many mosquito bites they received, and I will put together a grand total!!!!

After a long wait our hares finally turned up to lead us on the never-ending drive to the northern extremities of St-Germain's forest. The 4 cars were all packed because, for a change, the train posse outnumbered the drivers. Royal Flush's carload managed to get separated from the other cars, yet arrived first at the run site! During the run, she was waiting for us again at a checkpoint. How does she do it? So the run set off as it was to continue, lots of fighting through bushes, lots of checkpoints, though not too many for the ladies although we outnumbered the men, sorry, blokes. Aquasex kindly didn't mention that he noticed MaBush fall splat. The hares had as much clue as we did where the trail was leading next, and we crossed the original path at least once, but survived. If you looked really closely, you could see really faint pouffes on the ground or the trees. Sometimes. By the time we arrived at the beer stop and started up the usual ice fighting, it was a good few minutes before the back of the pack made it to our grassy spot, in time to hear Deep Throat moaning about his fellow hashers, as usual. Delightfully short OnIn, although many of us missed it, and on to a sunny circle on the grass with mosquitoes, and later chocolate cake, coffee and coconuts. Great for those who live on a C food diet, eh! Just before everyone left, the lake swimming commenced. Oh to be mad (or was it just a ploy to avoid even more mozzie bites?)

What did we think of the run:

Misleading, bad marking, too far to the beer stop/not far enough after, too much blood

A guy walks into a bar with an octopus. He sits the octopus down on a stool and tells everyone in the bar that this is a very talented octopus. He can play any musical instrument in the world." He hears everyone in the crowd laughing at him, calling him an idiot, etc. So he says that he will wager $50 to anyone who has an instrument that the octopus can't play.

A guy walks up with a guitar and sets it beside the octopus. The octopus starts playing better than Jimi Hendrix, just rippin' it up. So the man pays his $50.

Another guy walks up with a trumpet. The octopus plays the trumpet better than Dizzie Gillespie. So the man pays his $50.

Then a Scotsman walks up with bagpipes. He sits them down and the octopus fumbles with it for a minute and sits it down with a confused look.

"Ha!" the Scot says. "Can you no play it?" The octopus looks up at him and says, "Play it? I'm going to fuck it as soon as I figure out how to get its pyjamas off."

This is the Run Report for Run No. 318

When: Sunday 29th August, 1999
Where: Parc de Versailles
Hare: Choucroute Power and Had So Many
Attendance: 25 + 3 dogs

Thanks to people who went and missed the train (better than being sent to Austerlitz I guess), we set off really late to the run site, which we had to pay to get into. OK if you aren't Scottish or Dutch I suppose*. But we had lost Stars 'n' Stripes. Oh dear. A search party consisting of Sig and Richard was sent off for them, but only Sig and Richard were seen again. Absolutely gorgeous run, with not only lovely foresty bits with no shiggy, no nettles, no thorns, no mozzies, rather sunlight filtering onto the forest floor and lovely things like that. Of course the highlights were when we came into the open and ran round the canal-lake things in the Parc of Versailles, looking up to the Chateau which was either quite far away or extremely far away, depending which part of the run we're on about. Not only this but the Water Music came wafting to our ears too! Beer stop didn't take too long to get to - excellent - and then we ran a bit further and came upon another beer stop. It was just like Christmas, except we had glorious weather. Later on Sig turned up again, still sans Stars and Stripes, and by Beer Stop 1 we had already lost quite a large contingent of Slow People, again never to be seen again before the OnIn, where we found them sunning themselves, as you do.

What did we think of the run:

Too gorgeous, too many views, flour too well hidden, music a novelty

HashHumour:

Nelson Mandela is sitting at home watching the telly (probably the rugby from Durban) when he hears a knock at the door.

When he opens it, he is confronted by a little Japanese man, clutching a clipboard and yelling, "You sign, you sign!". Behind him is an enormous truck full of car exhausts. Nelson is standing there in complete amazement when the Japanese man starts to yell louder. "You sign! You sign!".

Nelson says to him, "Look mate, you've obviously got the wrong bloke. Get lost!" and shuts the door in the Japanese man's face.

The next day he hears a knock at the door again. When he opens it, the little Japanese man is back, with a huge truck full of brake pads.

He thrusts his clipboard under Nelson's nose, yelling "You sign! You sign!". Mr Mandela is getting a bit hacked off by now, so he shoves the little Japanese man back, shouting: "Look, get lost!! You've got the wrong bloke! I don't want them!" then slams the door in the Japanese man's face again.

The following day Nelson is resting, and late in the afternoon, hears a knock on the door again. Upon opening the door, the little Japanese man thrusts the same clipboard under his nose, shouting "You sign! You sign!". Behind him are TWO large trucks full of wing mirrors.

Nelson loses his temper completely, picks the little man up by his shirt front and yells at him, "Look, I don't want these! Do you understand?"

You must have the wrong man! Who do you want to give these too?"

The little Japanese man looks at him a bit puzzled, consults his clipboard, and says:

"You not Nissan Maindealer?"

When: Sunday 5th September, 1999
Where: Lac de ?????????????? whatever it's called"..
Hare: Bly good question.....!
Attendance: 21-23(depending on who was counting!) + 2 kids +2 dogs

Arriving at St-Lazare, it was obvious that things would not go to plan for this run (well nobody thought anything of it, but the train left from the wrong platform...) and that improvisation was required. Where were the hares? It should have been obvious from last weeks hash trash that Stars and Stripes lead the way, unfortunately they didn't read it though (like [apparently] everybody else :o(... well, maybe; although I think it's great you got this far...) and nobody else told them (MaBush, just you wait... :o)) he he). Dracula was also accused to be a non-performing hare, for reasons that eluded me. The live run was made possible by the quick organisational thinking of Stars, Cptn. Bimbo, Great Mistress and Steel Stripper, and the being volunteered as hares of two make shift hares. Off we set to the Lac de something or another, Old Bangor likes so much, and off the hares went. The trail went up and down the mountains, with some chiggy and all, but despite the effort of the hares, most cut out two bly big hills and cut short. All short cutting bas got lost, except Erection Specialist, who was waiting at the cars when the hares arrived. In the next half hour more and more hashers appeared from the woods in groups of one, two three or more (what they had been doing there, will remain a mystery...) and some of the food bought in a hasty shopping trip was consumed. Maybe the occurrences in the woods weren't enjoyed by everybody though, since Sleeping Sex wants to leave (was it bad, well, she wants to leave the COUNTRY!!!). Hopefully the blossoming romance with Dennis will convince her to stay though (or how are we to interpret that he is covering her expenses???). The beer abuse by Lady in Waiting seems to become a weekly occurrence, she hasn't got used to going home in a wet T-shirt though (she will learn, it's been taken care of... :-)) just you wait). The circle was a little chaotic (even more so, when the rain started poring down), but the well aimed beer spillage by Isabelle that drowned Stripes, still lead to a baptism. The buff afterwards was cancelled, due to the soggy baguette. Never mind, everybody seemed to enjoy it (at least we were all 'fairly' wet), especially Old Bangor. He sat for about a minute and a half in Catherine's car, and left it with the steering wheel covered in white stuff! Mathilde was also in good form, telling everybody within earshot who she uses her teeth (I guess I feel a name coming on here!). Maybe that is the effect of dog biscuits she insisted on eating, but although her bite is reasonable, her barking needs practice...

What did we think of the run:

Too few hares, too much flower, too many hills, too long, too short and all the usual stuff

Down-Downs

HashHumour:

These are actual answering machine messages.....

My wife and I can't come to the phone right now, but if you'll Leave your name and number, we'll get back to you as soon as we're finished.

A is for academics. B is for beer.

One of those reasons is why we're not here. So leave a message.

Hi. This is John. If you are the Phone Company, I already sent the money. If you are my parents, please send me money. If you are my Financial aid institution, you didn't lend me enough money. If you are my friends, you owe me money. If you are a female, don't worry, I have plenty of money.

Hi. Now say something.

Hi, I'm not home right now but my answering machine is, so you can talk to it instead. Wait for the beep.

Hello. I am David's answering machine. What are you?

Hi! John's answering machine is broken. This is his refrigerator. Please speak very slowly, and I'll stick your message to myself with one of these magnets.

Hello, this is Sally's microwave. Her answering machine just eloped with her tape deck, so I'm stuck with taking her calls.

Say, if you want anything cooked while you leave your message, just hold it up to the phone.

Hello, you are talking to a machine. I am capable of receiving messages. My owners do not need siding, windows, or a hot tub, and their carpets are clean. They give to charity through their office and do not need Their picture taken. If you are still with me, leave your name and number, and they will get back to you.

This is not an answering machine, this is a telepathic thought Recording device. After the tone, think about your name, your reason for calling and a number where I can reach you, and I'll think about returning your call.

Hi, this is George. I'm sorry I can't answer the phone right now. Leave a message and then wait by your phone until I call you back.

If you are a burglar, then we're probably home cleaning our weapons right now and can't come to the phone. Otherwise, we probably aren't home and it's safe to leave a message.

You're growing tired. Your eyelids are getting heavy. You feel very sleepy now. You are gradually losing your willpower and your ability to resist suggestions. When you hear the tone, you will feel helplessly compelled to leave your name, number and a message.

Please leave a message. However you have the right to remain silent. Everything you say will be recorded and will be used by us.

Hello, you've reached John and Sonya, we can't pick up the phone right now, because we're doing something we really enjoy. Sonya likes doing it up and down and I like doing it left to right.real slowly. So, leave a message, and when we are done brushing our teeth, we'll get back to you.

This one is the best..

Hi. I am probably home. I'm just avoiding someone I don't like. Leave me a message and if I don't call back, it's you.

This is the Run Report for Run No. 320

When:	Sunday 12th September, 1999
Where:	Foret de Malmaison
Hare:	Dracula
Attendance:	25

What a day! Lots of people piling off trains, lots of virgins, lots of folk in old Sans Clue T-shirts. The poor hare turned up in a bit of a state, because due to circumstances so typical of Dracula, the run would have to be live. As he explained before he set off to lay the trail assisted by speedy Steel Stripper... that morning he was all ready to go and set his trail at 10h, but left his flat and couldn't find the car, nothing unusual after a drunken Saturday night. But after some time his worst fears became reality - the pigs had towed it away. So at great expense he had to go and get it back. Shame he hadn't packed his car keys, and had to go all the way back for them. Oh dear. Still, Dracula got his priorities right - perhaps he hadn't had time to lay the trail, but he had sorted out the beer stop.

The pack set off giving the poor hares barely 5 minutes; this pack, strong and fast, was very bloodthirsty. At very high speed we ploughed through check after check - luckily there were lots of checks to slow us down, but also there was a hole in the bag of flour which tended to help us find the right trail pretty quickly. On we blasted, sweating away, the fastest FRBs hardly being seen, the back of the pack, well at least 4 of them, getting separated and not seen again till back at the cars. Wonderful paths, smashing hills, no shiggy, and almost no hares either. Good old Platypussy and Juan-Philippe caught the hares, who spent just a bit too much time disputing where the hell they had laid the beer stop. Wonderful beer stop, for the 1st time in living memory (not that I've lived long) there was enough water to go round. Choccy provided too! Sweat awards went to Wrong Way for being saturated in sweat, and Sleeping Sex for not sweating at all. Mario brought along a ball (so that made 3 apparently) which we enjoyed playing with. But not as much as he did.

After the circle the hares weren't to be seen again till the OnIn, and the pack went crunching through the forest, with a lot of uphill, grr, and some treacherous downhill, until we finally lost the trail, having been along the same bit of path about 4 times... So after faffing around a lot, we followed the road in what must have been the right direction (logic: Orange Slip went that way, thus so did everyone else, Wrong Way went the other way...) much to Steel Stripper's disappointment: he had set a very scratchy detour trail instead which we all ran past, preferring to stick to the road, not the flour, which we couldn't bloody find anyway.

Big circle - with the Marmotte in the middle on the ice, and Dracula giving directions to rambblers behind the sign - "anime" by Orange Slip, appropriate name this day since he slipped off surreptitiously afterwards never to be seen again.

What did we think of the run:
too many hills, not enough shiggy, too far to beer stop

HashHumour:

Jerry is hired to play his trumpet on the score of a movie, and he's excited. He's especially thrilled because he got to take two long solos. After the sessions, which went great, Jerry can't wait to see the finished product. He asked the producer where and when he could catch the film. A little embarrassed, the producer explained that the music was for a porno flick that will be out in a month, and he told Jerry where he can go to see it.

A month later, Jerry, with his collar up and wearing dark glasses, went to the theatre where the picture is playing. He walked in and sat way in the back, next to an elderly couple who also seem to be disguised and hiding.

The movie started, and it was the filthiest, most perverse porno flick ever group sex, S&M.... and then, halfway through, a dog got in on the action. Before anyone could blink an eye, the dog has had sex with all the women and most of the men.

Embarrassed, Jerry turned to the old couple and whispered, "I'm only here for the music."

The woman turned to Jerry and whispered back, "We're here to see our dog."

Trainful of hung over hashers turn up quietly at Garches. It thinks of raining. Some folk turn up in their cars. Hares Deep Throat and Lady-in-Waiting are waiting for us in Sanny G's since they cannae be bothered coming back to find us, either that or they trust Old Banger implicitly, and why not, if he's that good a barman too... It rains. We park in a forest, the one by the ditch, and the rain stops. The RA can rest in peace. We are to look out for a special check on this run, with 3 nipples in it instead of 2. In fact that was the check that got cked up so in fact it must have been a men's check. Then there was a very small men's check. No men admitted to being very small enough to check so on we ran. Shiggy was to be found in the allotments, along with some strange smells of rotting vegetables. We ran through a village too. This was quite a run for the shortcutters, of whom there was quite a turnout, led by Nympho who we lost for a while because she was so convinced that "we'd be back". This was a great run for trusting the hares, whenever they stopped, the observant ones among us would too. How are your calf muscles, fellow hashers? Are you in pain today after all these bloody steep hills, up, down, steps, up, down, and stretching too? Aargh. Smashing hashview looking across from the big long terrace thing in St-Germain over to La Defense and the Eiffel Tower. Several kilometres later we were in the town centre of St-Germain, and luckily here the beer stop awaited us, in a calm little cour. The beer was so cold that we could see the blue indicator on the bottles, a hash First, methinks. Exit from town was hairy and precarious, dodging millions of little kids on bikes and other troublesome hazards, then we nipped through the RER station, then got lost in a park where I bet we weren't supposed to be trampling over the pelouse. Following that it was a bit of the old following our noses (or those who always know their way in the forest's noses) to get to that OnIn. We managed, drank some beer, nibbled a bit, began a circle, the rain began, RA's revenge?? We sheltered under not enough bushes, we had a wet picnic, then scarpered when we were all suitably drenched.

Run Comments: Where was the flour? So many ladies checks.

We arrived and went into the cafe just to piss off the staff, sorry, to give them lots of custom actually, and it had been newly done up and the loo is still there. We set off on the run once the beer had been parked by the beer stop - how to tell that Butterbutt was a virgin hare here - he needed advice on where to buy the beer...! So a small but perfectly formed pack bounded off into the Garches forest, not impeded by falsies at the level crossing or anything, pure bliss. It wasn't to last (does it ever??). We ran for a bit, got to a check, couldn't find the flour, found the flour, lost it again, got to a check, couldn't find the next bit of trail, and so on and so forth. That's why we love runs in Garches, we're such a bunch of smarty pants that we think we know it all, but that's where we're most likely to get very, very confused! At another ladies' check it began to rain, but since puffs of flour were so thin on the ground, the shower had stopped by the time "OnOn" was called. Well hidden beer at the beer stop, which coincided with a parade of vintage cars and penny farthings. Smashing. Energetic OnIn back to the our favourite car-park in the world. Circle with copious down-downs, but so little food that we had to go to an Ethiopian restaurant.

HashHumour(?):

A man playing on a new golf course got confused as to what hole he was on.

He saw a lady playing ahead of him. He walked up to her and asked if she knew what hole he was playing. She replied, "I'm on the 7th hole, and you're a hole behind me, so you must be on the 6th hole." He thanked her and went back to his golf.

On the back nine, the same thing happened, and he approached the lady again with the same request. She said, "I'm on the 14th, you are a hole behind me, so you must be on the 13th." Once again he thanked her.

He finished his round and went into the club house and saw the lady sitting at the end of the bar. He went up to her and said, "Let me buy you a drink to show my appreciation for your help." He started a conversation and asked her what kind of work she did. She said she was in sales, and he said he was in sales also. He asked what she sold.

She replied, "If I told you, you would only laugh."

"No, I wouldn't," he said.

She said, "I sell tampons."

With that he fell on the floor laughing so hard.

She said, "See, I knew you would laugh."

"That's not what I'm laughing at," he replied. "I'm a toilet paper salesman, so I'm STILL one hole behind you!"

The European Commission has just announced an agreement that English will be the official language of the EU - rather than German (the other possibility).

As part of the negotiations, Her Majesty's Government conceded that English spelling had some room for improvement, and has accepted a 5-year phase-in of new rules which would apply to the language and reclassify it as EuroEnglish.

The agreed plan is as follows:

In year 1, the soft 'c' would be replaced by 's'. Certainly, this will make the sivil servants jump with joy. The hard 'c' will be replaced by 'k'. This should klear up konfursion and keyboards kan now have one less letter. There will be growing publik enthusiasm in the sekond year, when the troublesome 'ph' is replaced by 'f'. This will reduse 'fotograf' by 20%.

In the 3rd year, publik akseptanse of the new spelling kan be expekted to reach the stage where more komplikated changes are possible.

Governments will enkourage the removal of double letters, which have always ben a deterrent to akurate speling. Also, al wil agre that the horrible mes of the silent 'e's in the language is disgrasful and they should eliminat them.

By year 4, peopl wil be reseptiv to lingwistik korektions such as replasing 'th' with 'z' and 'w' with 'v' (saving mor keyboard spas). During ze fifz year, ze unesesary 'o' kan be dropd from vords knotaining 'ou' and similar changes vud of kors be applid to ozer kombinations of leters.

After zis fifz year, ve vil hav a reli sensibil riten styl. Zer vil be no mor trubls or difikultis and evrirun vil find it ezi to understand ech ozer

Attendance: 13 + 2 dogs

MaBush and Mario bravely volunteered to be the hares, well it was brave of Mario anyway. Kind MaBush didn't quite kill him but did her best. At least it wasn't that long a run, and even Likes a Long One was in full approval. Not as confusing as the usual MaBush run either, but just about, judging by the fact that the hares didn't get caught. Checkpoints were just about everywhere, and there was quite a lack of false trails. No complaints about lack of flour, yippee, about time too, n'est-ce pas. Captain Bimbo wasn't too severe on the pack either - after losing his pen in the forest he had to depend on his memory. Yikes! Run ended with a circular check which confused everyone. Poor parched runners got back to the OnIn and had to gasp with thirst while we waited for Attila the Hen to return as she had the keys of the "Beermobile".

What did we think of the run?

Too long, too much shiggy, not enough checkpoints. The perfect run.

When: Sun 31 October, 1999
Hare: MaBush
Attendance: 13, 2¾ dogs

Wonderful day to be in Garches, especially with an "extra" hour thrown in somewhere nice, and only half way through the weekend and all... Sunshine, autumn, not cold, no complaints about not using enough flour, pouffes were abundant. Trail was confusing, especially to MaBush, no surprises there then. Apart from the usual markings on the ground the hares treated the pack to a multicheck round some mushrooms (just for Ghislaine), a circular check or 2, a song stop where Steel Stripper botched an attempt to be Pavarotti, and a Look Up just because the leaves looked so pretty and high up with all that blue sky above (puke). The good old Garches level crossing managed to hold the pack back in both directions, most handy since at this point Old Banger noticed our 2 latecomers getting off the train and chivalrously ran off to fetch them. Cheers too to Wrong Way who didn't run but came by to drop off the dip, etc. Down-downs were big and fizzy thanks to lack of these mugs - where are they? One of those who didn't obey the dress code was Orange Slip - he wore white instead and suffered at the mercy of red-wine chucking Lady X! All in all a rather smashing anniversary!

What did we think of the run? Perfect.

Saturday 1 January 2000 - The Capital Hash of New Delhi will be holding 2 separate hash runs on 1.Jan.

The first will be in the Union Territory of Delhi at a venue still to be decided. The second will start at the Hotel Campanile at Montesson at 1300 hours.

All Sans Clue hashers are welcome to join in either of these runs but must meet the cost of the airfare to Delhi or the RER to Vesinet/le Pecq from their own resources. The Montesson run will finish in the garden of a nearby residence and seasonal fare will be served if the greedy devils from Delhi have not scoffed it all the night before.

The Capital Hash have reserved 45 seats on a dinner cruise from "Quai 55" in Boulogne-Billancourt on the evening of 1 January. This is the same company that Nathalie used for the Hash Ball in 1998 when a good time was had by all. There are a number of places still available on the boat if anyone should wish to join us.

If you are interested in either the run or the boat trip please contact Old Banger.

A man is driving up a steep, narrow mountain road. A woman is driving down the same road.

As they pass each other, the woman leans out of the window and yells "PIG!!".

The man immediately leans out of his window and replies, "BITCH!!".

They each continue on their way, and as the man rounds the next corner, he crashes into a pig in the middle of the road.

If only men would listen.

They just kept on coming, loads of hashers, the new, the old and the furniture. Maybe this was to compensate for Can't Come, and even he came, and did the old "I'm setting this run on my own, oh bliss, no co-hare = freedom, nobody to hold me back, I'll run the whole distance, rah rah rah..." thing. In retrospect, what takes Can't Come an hour and a half to do running, god save us. Well I don't know if there is a god, but he saved the walkers. We went into the forest of Garches and ran until we got to a bit that nobody knew, with a smashing hash view (usual Tour Eiffel crap) and even by then, the walkers were not to be seen again. The sprinters on the other hand, were tiring themselves out by going far too fast and not stopping much. Poor Steel Stripper really suffered with all these ladies checks to slow him down. So he checked them out... you know the score. But what a run. The hare made sure that he didn't "pollute" the forest with too much flour; pouffes were few and far between, perfect to make sure Wrong Way was what we did, not just our favourite dipmeister's hash name. Astonishingly, everyone did make it back in dribs and drabs to Garches car park where there was a German spirit in honour of everyone's favourite Choucroute Power. We had dry ice, glüwein, choucroute and sausages, kuchen, bavarian snuff, oompah songs, the works!

What did we think of the run? Too short, too many beer stops, far too much flour

Run report to follow. Actually, let me tell you a little story. This weekend MaBush was away hashing for the other team, as it were, whose RA told her that his hash has 2 kind of down-downs. These poor sods are forced to drink concoctions that only an RA with a really dirty mind could produce.

HashHumour:

There was a Frenchman, an Englishman and Claudia Schiffer sitting together in a carriage in a train going through Provence. Suddenly the train went through a tunnel and, being an old style train, there were no lights in the carriages and it went completely dark. Then there was a kissing noise and the sound of a really loud slap. When the train came out of the tunnel, Claudia Schiffer and the Englishman were sitting as if nothing had happened and the Frenchman had his hand against his face as he had been slapped there.

The Frenchman was thinking: 'The English bloke must have kissed Claudia Schiffer and she missed him and slapped me instead.'

Claudia Schiffer was thinking: 'The French bloke must have tried to kiss me and actually kissed the Englishman and got slapped for it.'

And the Englishman was thinking: 'This is great. The next time the train goes through a tunnel I'll make another kissing noise and slap that French bastard again.'

Who could have guessed that "Ancient Grandpa Orange Slip Run" would mean just that!

? the old lady who used to inhabit his flat had left a little something for him in the "cave". Thus Orange Slip brought along enough orange-ish crotchless long-johns for everyone to slip one on over their running gear - so apt for such a bloody freezing day. Pissing ourselves laughing we pulled these things on and continued to piss ourselves laughing as we scrambled up hills and sloshed through shiggy, seeing our fellow hashers' arses in a way that we'd never considered before. This was the most smashing run ever, despite the cold, we had sunshine, shiggy, beer stop, and even Deep Throat didn't complain till he was hoarse, for a change. The hares had chosen an eclectic mix of scenery and, er, scrambling. We met a puppy which adopted us and had to be carried back to its rightful owners by Wrong Way! In the usual Orange Slip style there was confusion everywhere such as: arrows which led nowhere and whose presence was denied 5 minutes later, random pouffes, and of course a wonderful circular check. But hey, we kept the pack together! To add to the usual checks and ladies' checks, we ensured the Sans Clue HHH remains very incestuous with some couples' checks (2 overlapping circles). Da. Plus loads of shiggy and a couple of nasty steep bits. Still, it was a very pretty forest and perfect for hares without cars - the station is in the forest! Cold circle, much improved with gluwein and lentil soup!

What did we think of the run? Great, full marks?

Where??? Forest de St. Germain??? Or maybe it was St.-Nom-La-Breteche???

Run report to follow. Actually, let me tell you a little story...[snip]

I took that as an encouragement...

>Secondly there are down-downs for those who don't produce run reports on time. These poor sods are forced to drink concoctions that only an RA with a really dirty mind could produce.

...and that as a threat... so here it follows:

For about half the hashers, the run started with an adventure, since getting to Garches was only possible by means of a great mattress_ (or should that be the flying carpet of Royal Flush?)...

The journey was educational in so far, as about half of the males who had attended a (raving) party the night before dialled a specific number only to be told that the connection is bad... ...don't say you haven't been warned_ :o)))...

Since there was no hare, a well established live running team (consisting of Old Banger and Steel Stripper) took over, and laid a most excellent trail_ in fact it was so good, that they managed to lose more than half the pack somewhere in the woods, although the rest did enjoy the shiggy, and the unexpected falsies (one is on means one puff is __usually__ on, but three is __probably__ definitely_). Nobody worried about the lost hashers, since two of the regular walky-talkies have been lost in these woods several times before... The other reason why no search party was formed even though the _pack_ had been back for _hours_ was the knowledge that the one (Orange Slip) of whom one deserter, who shall remain nameless (yes I know I am beating around the (ma) bush here, but_) keeps on saying that he never loses his orientation! Well almost, although one should have pointed out to him (and maybe the rest of them) that when running in a circle against the clock one should turn LEFT once hitting a road (and not hit on unsuspecting residents several miles away...

Luckily everybody arrived and the circle and buff (SS means bouffe) were even finished before it started raining...

What did we think of the run?

All kinds of things I can't remember, and can't be asked to make up either...

This is the Run Report for Run No. 331

Where: Croissy/St-Germain-en-Laye
When: Sun 28 November, 1999
Hare: Captain Bimbo
Attendance: 24

The run's Scottish theme started off with lots of silly jock hats and McDracula wearing a binbag for a kilt to complete his very Scottish outfit. We parked by the Seine, and merrily skipped along its banks until we got to a check, which took us on-on-ing over the bridge. At the other side Louseburger had already understood the HG - an opportunity to grope the oversized breasts of la Sein(e) statue! Has anyone seen the Famous French Fighter Pilot and Christine? Where DID they go alone for a very long time? The (dirty) mind boggles. Then oh God what a big hill to run up, still, never mind, at the top of that, the right way was up millions of steps onto the Terrasse of St-Germain. Suddenly (well not if you know St-Germain as well as most SC hashers) we were running round the Chateau and past the RER station into the park! But not even this lasted long, we soon found ourselves in some forest. But where was the beer stop? Try asking the Captain Bimbo. Those who did were assured it was after the next check. Well of course it was... A few million trees later, indeed, we found the beer stop, with a prime selection of beers and some ready-mixed whisky and green ginger ale, an Edinburgh speciality. The hare planned the next bit to take us to the Hash View, and also to keep the whole pack together. Well the HV was a bit scuppered by all these fences everywhere, and the fact that there is no view since SG is so bloody far from anything interesting to view. On departure from the HV there weren't many of us, oh dear, so fingers (not legs) crossed we ran on, and started the merry descent down the steps, down the hill and over the bridge, all a bit separated. As Bimbo noticed. Still, all were as present and correct as they'll ever be back at the cars, where a circle was held as far from Old Banger's car as possible. Before we had frozen, we went back for our supper chez Captain Bimbo and Attila the Hen for an evening of Scottishness, with ceilidh dancing and haggis enjoyed by all! A big thanks to youze!

What did we think of the run? We weren't asked.

This blonde decides one day that she is sick and tired of all these blonde jokes and how all blondes are perceived as stupid, so she decides to show her husband that blondes really are smart.

While her husband is off at work, she decides that she is going to paint a couple of rooms in the house. The next day, right after her husband leaves for work, she gets down to the task at hand.

Her husband arrives home at 5:30 and smells the distinctive smell of paint. He walks into the living room and finds his wife lying on the floor in a pool of sweat. He notices that she is wearing a ski jacket and a fur coat at the same time.

He goes over and asks her if she is OK. She replies yes. He asks what she is doing. She replies that she wanted to prove to him that not all blonde women are dumb and she wanted to do it by painting the house.

He then asks her why she has a ski jacket and a fur coat on. She replies that she was reading the directions on the paint can and they said,

"FOR BEST RESULTS, PUT ON TWO COATS.

Bill Clinton steps out onto the White House lawn in the dead of winter. Right in front of him, on the White House lawn, he sees, "The President Must Go!" written in urine across the snow. Well, old Bill is pretty ticked off.

He storms into his security staff's HQ, and yells, "Somebody wrote a threat in the snow on the front lawn! And they wrote it in urine! The person had to be standing right on the porch when he did it! Where were you guys?!"

The security guys stood silently and stared ashamedly at the floor. Bill hollers, "Well dammit, don't just sit there! Get out and FIND OUT WHO DID IT!! I want an answer, and I want it TONIGHT!" The entire staff immediately jumps up and races for the exits.

Later that evening, his chief security officer approached him and says, "Well Mr. President, we have some bad news, and we have some really bad news. Which do you want first?"

Clinton says, "Oh hell, give me the bad news first." The officer says, "Well, we took a sample of the urine and tested it. The results just came back, and it was Al Gore's urine."

Clinton says, "Oh my God, I feel so.... so....so....betrayed! My own Vice President! Damn....Well, what's the really bad news?"

The officer replies, "Well sir, it was in Hillary's handwriting."

"Sorry, guilty as charged." This run was seriously compromised by InjectionSpecialist, HighVoltage and SteelStripper who organised the party the night before (well it was actually only a "few" hours before the run, hence severely handicapping several runners... The actual run started with a minor cock-up since two hashers (no KenKong and SteelStripper, no names will be mentioned, you are safe... :o))) decided to get off the train at St.Cloud (their minds was obviously on cloud no. 9; which is where hangovers and sleep deprivation are cured... ...and continued with another cock-up... ...Lady X managed to take the train at 13:39 that doesn't even go to GarcheMC... Luckily we have a great mattress that had limited capabilities to organise and rectify matters (which is more than can be said for most others present...). I guess that was due to an (involuntary) early exit from said madness (guess daughters have their uses some times... :o)) ...ducking for cover, sorry NO, I didn't mean that in a derogatory way at all!!... :o)) ...).
The run was a WrongWay special since it was his B'day recently...

Back to the point (well I know this is a pointless exercise, but...); the run was super fast, due to the fact that we let OldBanger do all the checking himself (sometimes helped by WrongWay, who at times was the only one who knew the way (or could be bothered to work it out...); well that's irony for you... :o)). Luckily it had rained all morning, hence the BS was reached after about 20 walking, shortly followed by a WC/SC... now for all those who haven't heard of the latter (well that's most of us), let me enlighten you... WrongWay likes Whisky!... (some barbarians also call a similar thing Scotch... :o) ...) but 70% alcohol by itself isn't everybody's taste, hence the need for chocolate... The rest was a quick OnIn, a wet circle, some excellent party snacks, a chilly and other culinary niceties... ...and 9 hashers that were getting colder and colder...

What did we think of the run?

It had enough hills, shiggy and was long enough (although likes a long one would like a longer one; and that is no criticism of some aquatic creature I was assured). Flower was washed away enough not to be found (but it stuck to the shoes...!) and the weather was dry-ish... ...good against hangovers... :o))

Attendance: 20

Ho hum, we might have guessed, when the run started out going up the road into town, that it was just a GIANT falsie Ken Kong laid on at the last minute. So soon it was back to the joys of the woods, apart from the blokey hashers who ran in the wrong direction after a cute arse which they mistook for Likes a Long One's. Big confusing run in forest, lots of shiggy, no beer stop. Nobody got lost. It didn't rain, but it was cold, so lucky there was gluhwein (can anyone suggest how to spell it???) and hot Royal Flush soup (well I don't think she was an ingredient but what would I know?). Oh and we ran quite a bit too. We are becoming such an athletic hash. Is that 'cos it's colder and so we gotta keep moving, or are we just fitter and healthier than we would ever admit?

We have chosen a 'Hash Hotel' for the 200th Run Weekend. It is very close to many of the weekend's events and reasonably priced. Hotel Bauer, Kidlerstrasse 32, Munich, Tel: +49 (0)89/ 746 190. Single room: DM100,-, Double:DM 150,-, Triple: DM80,- per person. All rooms have WC/Shower or bath ensuite and include breakfast.

If you would like me to reserve a room for you, please send an e-mail with room type, and length of stay, full name and address. The hotel will not be included in your reservation fee. You may also make your own reservation if you prefer. Please let me know one way or the other if you will be using the hotel.

Starting at 17:00 on Friday, registration will take place at the Sendlinger Augustiner Restaurant on Alramstr. 24, Munich. To get there Take U-3 or U-6 to Implerstrasse, follow signs to Alramstrasse and walk up to # 24 Pub Crawl Run will start approx. 21:00 from restaurant. The registration for the hash weekend will be somewhere between DM 105,- and DM 115,- , and will include dinner on Saturday night, 3 runs, a T-shirt, a disco, snacks, tons of beer and other entertainment. It may also include dinner on Friday, but we haven't got that sorted out yet.

A map locating the Hotel Huber, the registration restaurant, and the Saturday evening restaurant is now posted on the 200th Run Info page on the MH3 website We're rolling now! Whippee!

HashHumour:

Q: What's the best way to kill a man?

A: Put a naked blonde and a six-pack in front of him.
Then tell him to pick only one.

Q: Why do men whistle when they're sitting on the toilet?

A: To help them remember which end they need to wipe.

Q: What is the difference between men and women:....

A: A woman wants one man to satisfy her every need...
A man wants every woman to satisfy his one need.

Q: How does a man keep his youth?

A: By giving her money, furs and diamonds.

Run no 336 2 Jan Captain Bimbo's Millenium Bash run and knees up. Introducing the New Delhi hash and representatives form Maputo and Bangalore. A truly international millenium

This is the Run Report for Run No. 334 and 335

Run 334

Where: St Cloud
When: Sun 19 December, 1999
Hare: Ken Kong
Attendance: a lot considering!!!

Ken Kong demonstrated his vicious side as he launched the pack off on a fools errand that involved the longest back check in history. The pack moaned their way baxk past GO where they did not receive #200!! Exception was yours truly who followed the curvacious derriere of the hasher in front until it became clear that this was not in fact a hasher. More worrying was that Deep Throat was following my derriere!!! Lots of checks and falsies including numerous occasions where Ken Kong demonstrated that as a good hare he hadn't a clue where he was . St Cloud in fact. Anyway, hash ended with a disastorous attempt at singing the down downs to the tune of jingle bells. A noise that had all the dogs in Garches howling at the windows.

Down downs to:

Ken Kong hare
Ken Kong - ridiculous check back!!
Likes a long one for as the look alike for the derriere that Cpt Bimbo followed. Capt Bimbo had one as well as he apparently was at fault here.
Royal Flush fpr mobile phone again. Menage a trois for spying on St Clouds illustrious Grand Mattress.
Bam Bam Beaver Balls for having this name and causing Capt Bimbos children to ask awkward questions.

Run 335

Where: St Cloud
When: Sun 26 December, 1999
Hare: Aquasex and Cpt Bimbo
Attendance: Aquasex and Cpt Bimbo

The Weather Record of the Century Run

The massive pack of 2 congregated for the special weather record of the century run. The RA had been up all night arranging the weather and what a job he made of it. Taking it in turns to be the hares and the pack the brave hashers attempted to break into the parc st cloud which had been shut due to a few trees having fallen over. For few read around 1000 The brave hashers not to be deterred ran over sprawling poplars and breached the Parc perimeter and continued to jog for 5m before another tree lay in front of them. This turned out to be the pattern of the day, so after some tree hurdles and climbing competitions the pack and the hare returned to the car park for the down downs . Given that Cpt Bimbo and Aquasex had to be the crowd, the RA, the Hares and the criminals this made for a difficult exhibition of drinking and singing at the same time while also maintaining control of the unruly hashers. They were, however, up to it and deserve medals.

HashHumour:

Two lions escape from the Antwerp zoo. They decide that they'd better split up, but agree to meet three months later at a given spot.

Three months go by and they meet at the appointed place. One is very skinny and the other appears very robust.

The Robust One (TRO): What happened to you? You look terrible!

The Skinny One (TSO): When we split up, I went to a nearby village. All I did was to eat one small person, and the villagers got very upset. They started chasing me with guns! I've been on the run ever since and haven't had a thing to eat since then.

TRO: That's too bad.

TSO: What about you? You seem to be doing well.

TRO: Well, I made my way to the European Commission. I've been eating an official a week, and nobody seems to notice.
